Dear Phyl.

Dear Phyllis:
This year has
sure gone fast. Drivers
Ed. has been lots of fun except for the movies. Ha!
Have fun this summer.
I'll see you next year.

Phyllis
Although I don't know you very well, it's been nice having you in Driver's Education.
(Gr) I mean driving.
Lots of luck and your future years.

Phyllis,
It's really been swell being in school with you. I sometimes dread it but will make it.
Luck to you always.

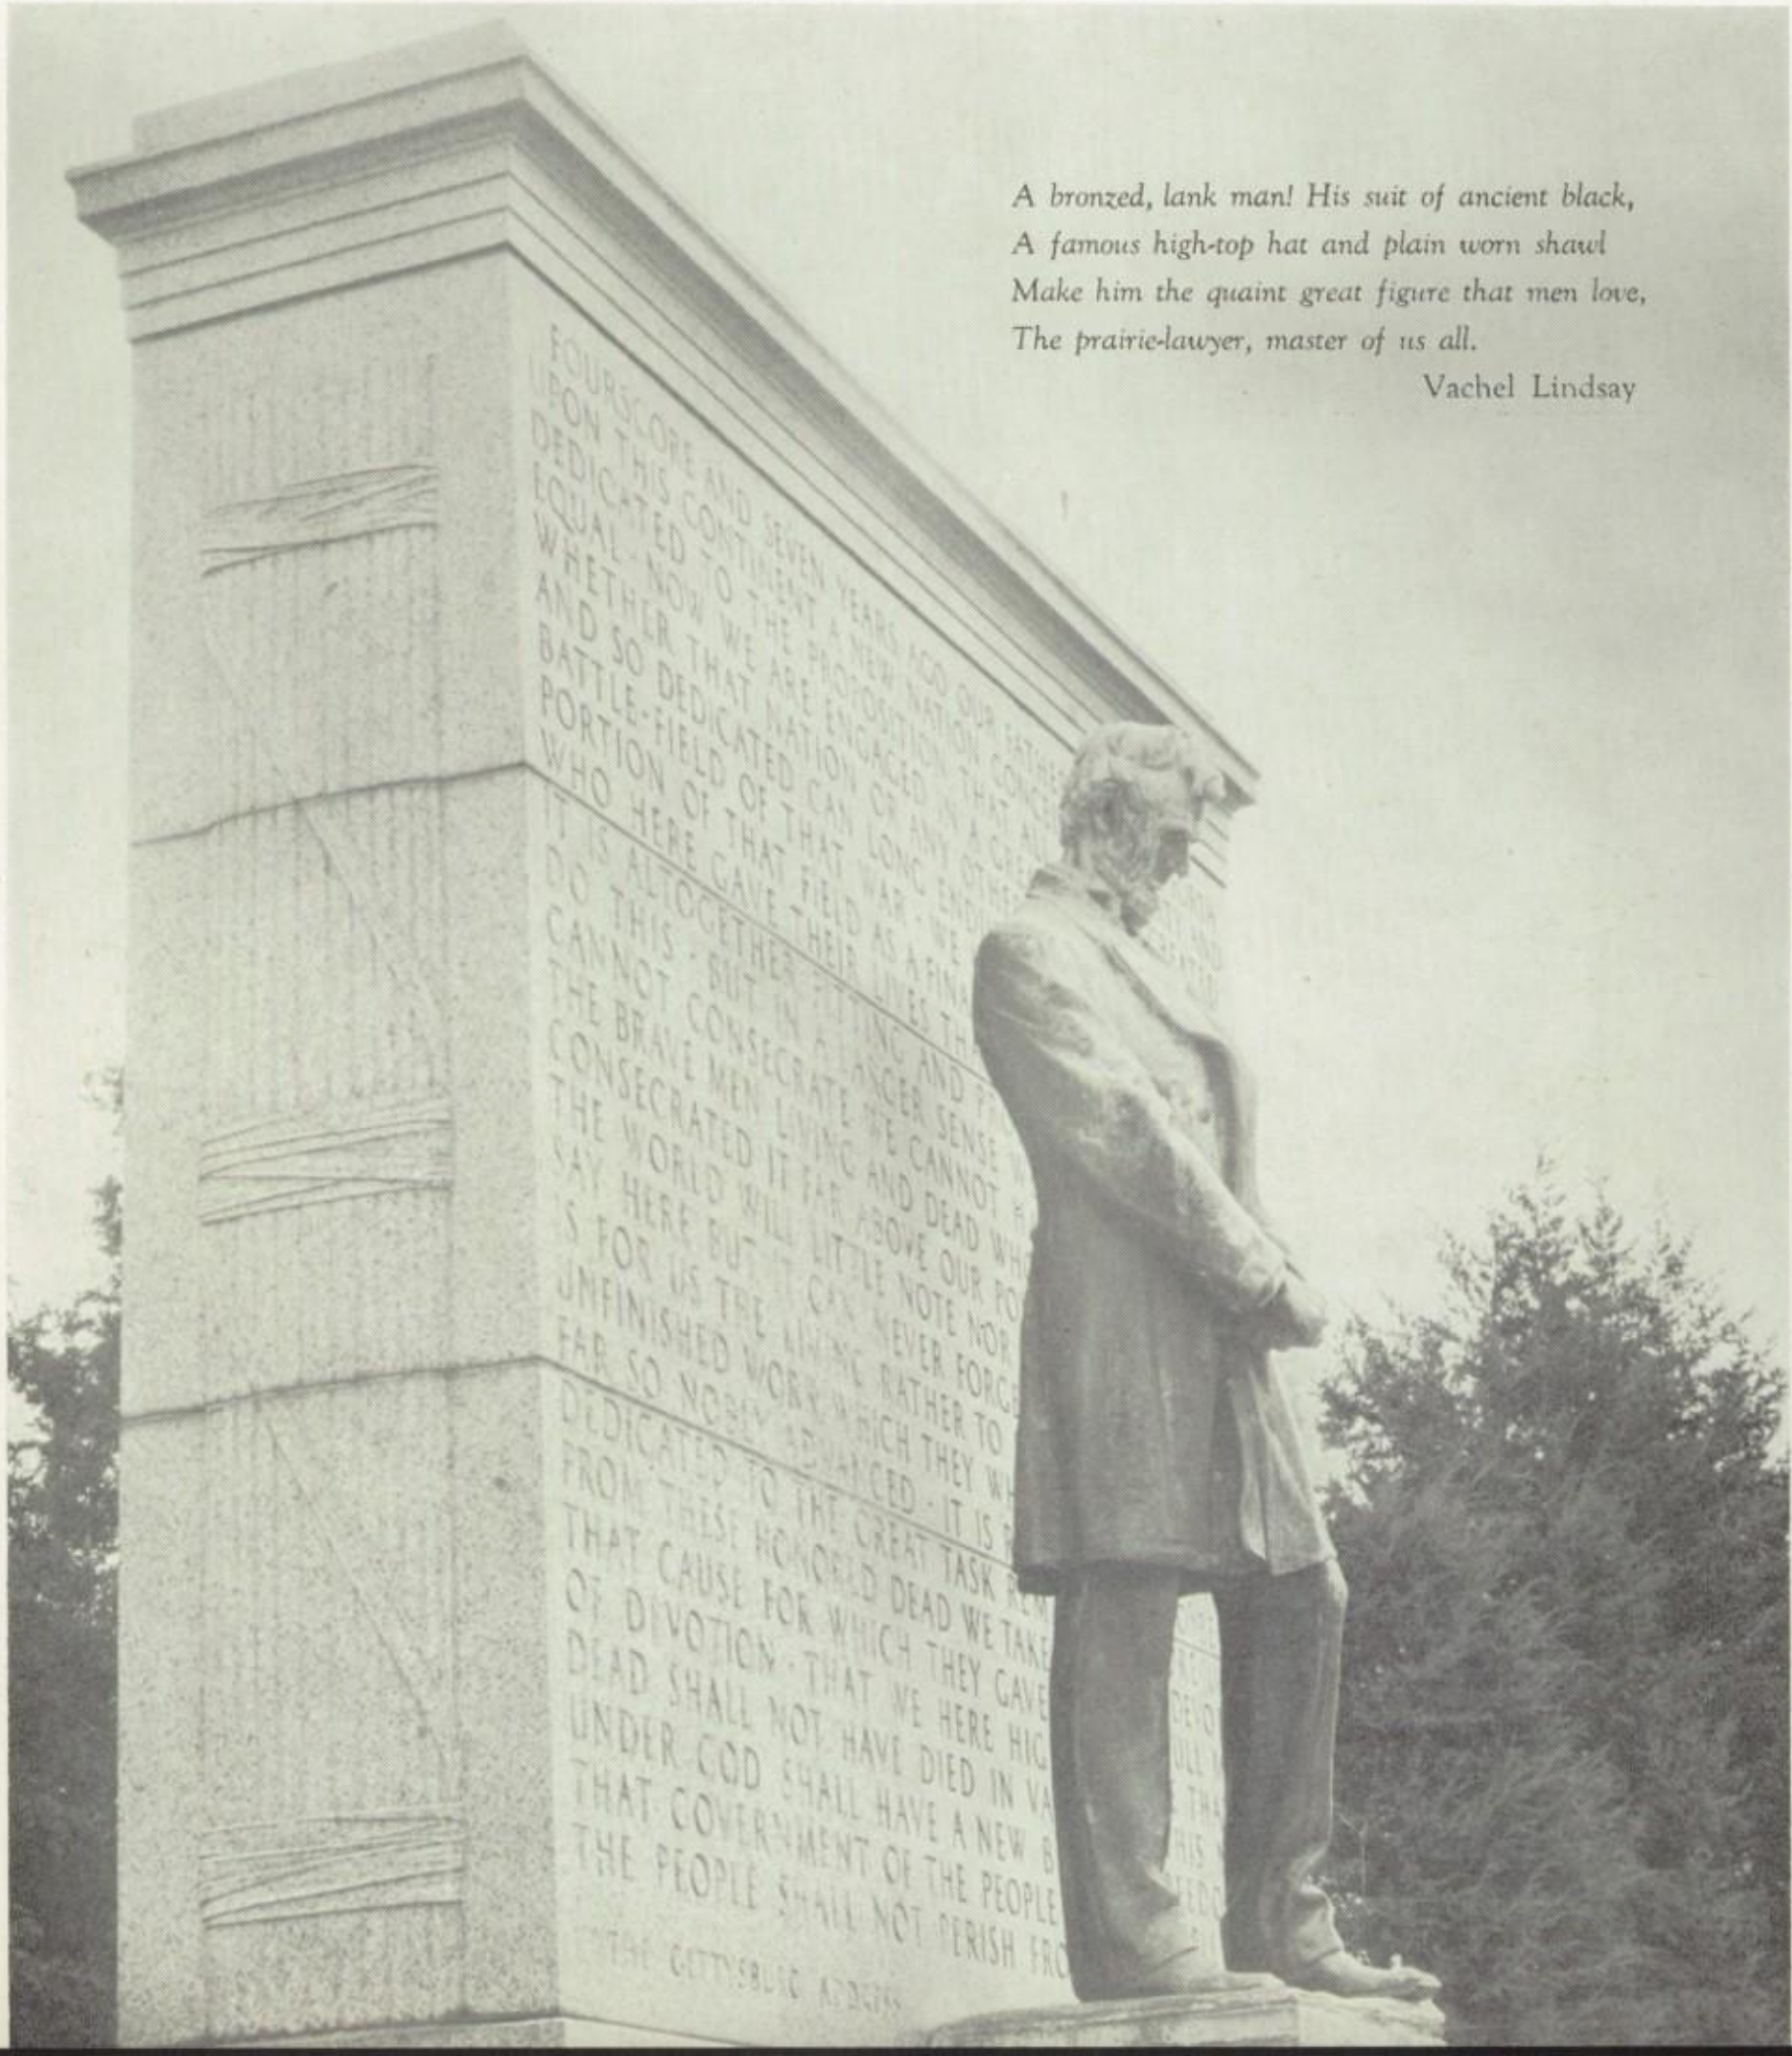
VOLUME 40

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL
LINCOLN, NEBRASKA

This is Lincoln High School . . . Lincoln High, Abraham Lincoln's namesake. No other one man could better represent the high ideals for which an American school should stand. Loyalty . . . Strength . . . Spirit . . . These ideals have been silhouetted on our lives in such a way that they can never be forgotten. As Abraham Lincoln and the things for which he stood remain, so will this, the fortieth volume of the Links, become part of the history of our school year.



A bronzed, lank man! His suit of ancient black,
A famous high-top hat and plain worn shawl
Make him the quaint great figure that men love,
The prairie-lawyer, master of us all.

Vachel Lindsay

Dear Phyllis
Well this year is about over.
Haven't we had a fall in Herman Page's wishes
Hope all your dreams come true demonstrations and I'll ever forget her a lot of luck Love Sharon Foreman

FACULTY

Busy signing papers, DR. STEPHEN N. WATKINS, Superintendent of Schools, stops to chat for a moment with his visitors.

MR. DAVID SELL, Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Business Affairs; DR. RUDOLPH FREDSTROM, Associate Superintendent of Schools; and MR. RALPH PARK, Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Operation and Maintenance, are found in conference.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS

Since the ten-and-one-half-million-dollar bond issue was passed last year, the Board of Education has been working on plans providing school buildings for approximately fifteen hundred new students every year. Seven hundred children of Lincoln Air Base employees, in addition to the number resulting from normal population growth, will account for this increase in school population.

Along with the problem of school housing is the ever-present need for more well-trained teachers and adequate salaries for them.

Much progress has been made this year, and the future of Lincoln's public schools looks very promising in the hands of this public-spirited group.

BOARD OF EDUCATION: Seated: Glenn Yaussi, Robert H. Ammon, Warren T. Parker, Mrs. Roscoe Hill. Standing: Dr. Paul Bancroft, Dr. Stephen N. Watkins, Robert C. Venner.

Our principal, WILLIAM B. BOGAR, has always been admired by the students. His friendly attitude toward pupils, faculty, and patrons has resulted in a fine spirit of co-operation.

OTTO HACKMAN, assistant principal and dean of boys for twenty-seven years, makes one of his last appointments at Lincoln High before his retirement.

SCHOOL EXECUTIVES

To Mr. Hackman:

"The measure of a man's life is in the well-spending of it."

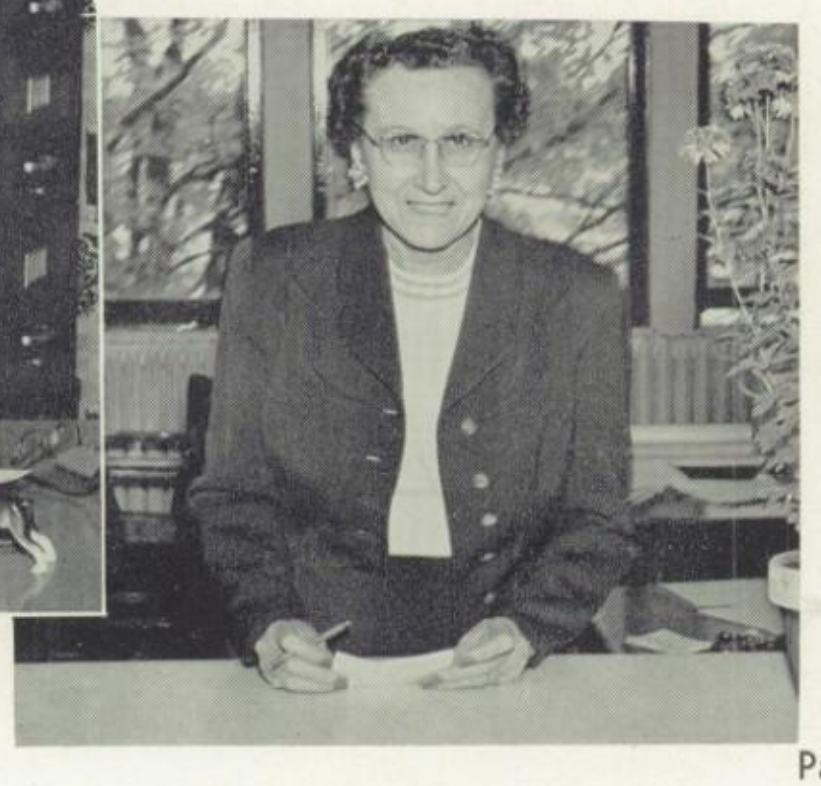
Any young man having his personal and career life ahead of him will find it worth-while to ponder the values and standards that have sustained Otto Hackman's own life. He has brought to his educational career a love of life and a spiritual strength. His capacity for understanding the problems of young people and his ability to help them toward a solution of these problems will instill in others a desire to emulate him.

It is with a great deal of regret that this year many of us who have known him as teacher, colleague, and friend must say, "Good-Bye." However, he will, by the inspiration of his example in many years of devoted service, point a better way for students and teachers.

Wm Bogar

Checking attendance and inquiring about the causes of pupils' absences are the duties of MARGUERITE GUNDERMANN, attendance director.

DORCAS WEATHERBY, assistant principal and girls counselor, advises girls about their problems and helps students with college scholarship applications.



MRS. MABEL SWARD, library clerk, is helped by Carol Lee Hansen, pupil assistant, when books need to be stacked, put away, and checked out or in.

Mr. Bogar's secretary, MRS. ENID KAVAN, receives the morning mail from MRS. ALICE HIBBERT, office clerk.

CLERKS AND SECRETARIES

BOOKS . . . CORRESPONDENCE . . . CLERICAL WORK . . . BULLETINS . . . RECORDS

Members of the office staff do their part to keep the school running smoothly by helping with detail work involved in carrying on the projects of an active high school.

A receipt for a lost book payment is made out to Sandra Johns by MRS. RUBY EVANS, book clerk.

Pausing for a rest during the endless checking of pupils' permanent records are MRS. MARIE PERRIN and MRS. MARTHA STROHM.

Always available for friendly advice, MISS WANDA CRAWMER and WINDLE REEL help their senior pupils to decide on vocations and plans for college.

Teaching English and social studies provides MRS. ANN MILLER, guidance counselor, with plenty to do. In addition, she is sponsor of Usherettes.

GUIDANCE COUNSELORS

REGISTRATION . . . TESTS . . . STUDY AND DISCUSSION . . . PERSONAL CONFERENCES . . . COLLECTIONS

Home room counselors are often instrumental in influencing the lives and attitudes of the pupils by offering advice about personal problems, vocations, and college preparation.

HARRY KUKLIN and MISS BETTY PAULY, junior home room teachers, prepare plans for a unit of study on dating for their classes. Mr. Kuklin is also swimming and golf coach.

These counselors, MRS. VIRGINIA ROBERTS, GUILFORD BURNHAM, and MRS. ALICE UPDEGRAFT, help sophomore pupils to become acquainted with Lincoln High. Mrs. Roberts also advises juniors and sponsors Aqualinks.

Discussing a mutual interest, dramatics, are MRS. MARYLOUISE ALEXANDER, Mummers sponsor, and MRS. JANET TERRY, director of the junior and senior plays.

LITERATURE . . . SPEECH . . . COMPOSITION . . .

When smothered by all manner of ambiguous phrases in a world of subjunctives, adverbs, adjectives, and preposterous prepositions, many are the students who would love to quit studying English and pursue some more enjoyable pastimes.

Visual education director and financial manager for the Athletic Department, ALVA CAVETT also teaches several English classes.

CLINTON NELSON, English teacher and debate coach, has found an interesting article to show to MISS FREDA SCHMELING, who also teaches English.

Asking MISS MARGARET O'ROURKE, Mimes sponsor, if she may borrow a sophomore English book for her classes is MISS VIRGINIA GUHIN, co-sponsor of International Club.

DEPARTMENT

NEWSPAPER . . . YEARBOOK . . . DEBATE

However, guided by the wisdom of the ages (namely, the teen-ages), they soon realize that many favorite pastimes, enjoying plays, books, and programs, writing letters, and talking to friends, couldn't be appreciated without the knowledge and effective use of English.

Planning Writers Club meetings and organizing the Scribe magazine staff are projects on which MAX LIEN, English instructor, is working.

MISS ESTHER MONTGOMERY uses an illustrated map of famous places and characters in books to give interest to her classes in American literature. She also serves as co-sponsor of International Club.

MISS MARY SIGLER chuckles over an amusing answer in an English test she is correcting. She served as director of Joy Night this year.

MISS EMMA SNYDER, librarian, examines The World We Live In, by Gertrude Hartman, just one of the many fine books in the Lincoln High School library.

Finishing class plans for the next day is MISS CARRIE ROBERTS, chairman of the History Department and a member of the American Field Service Committee.

NEAL HAFEMEISTER, history teacher, is interrupted while making out a winter schedule for the boys extensive intramural sports program of which he is the sponsor.

Bob Elliott, Mary Dieterich, and Bob Gibson examine the bulletin board in Mrs. Schwarz' room on which are posted many interesting articles concerning mental health, a unit studied in modern problems classes.

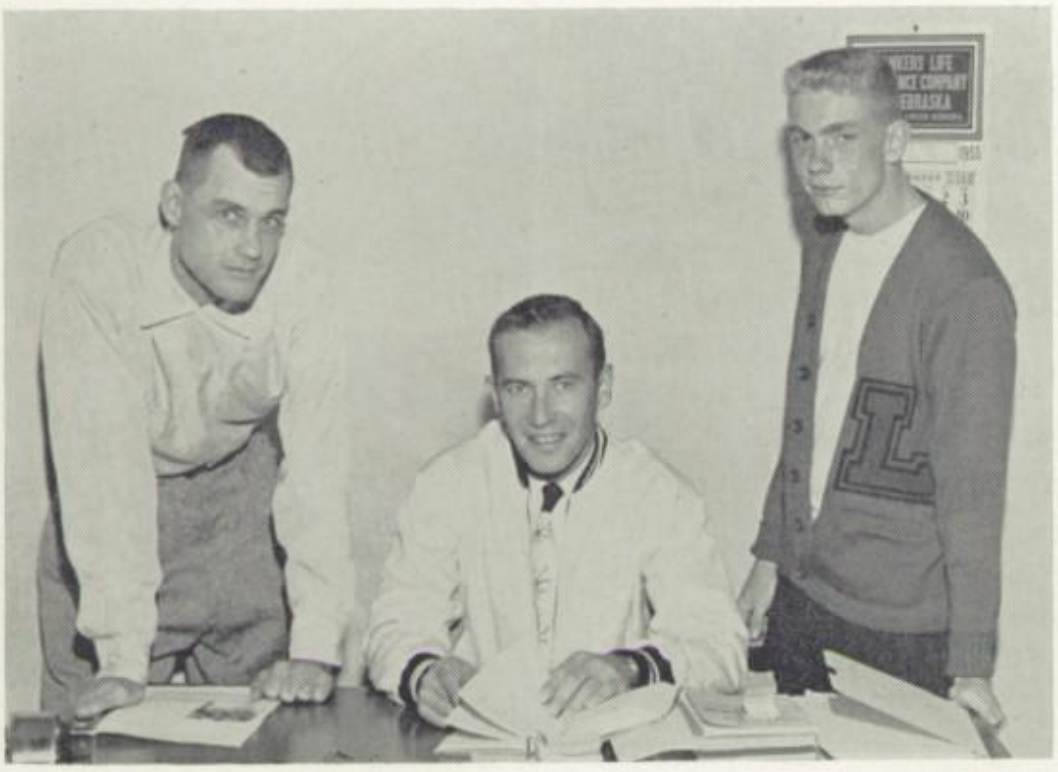
SOCIAL STUDIES

ECONOMICS . . . AMERICAN HISTORY . . . MODERN PROBLEMS . . . INTERNA-

In this day and age it becomes increasingly evident how necessary the study of social science is. Twice within the last fifty years we have been at war, and a knowledge of geography and history was very important then, as it is now with various national crises rising every day.

Through the study of the history, language, and customs of other people, we may find the road to understanding and world peace.

Three fine social studies teachers, MRS. RUTH PINNEY, MRS. RUTH SCHWARZ, and DARRELL GRELL, examine an old flag of the original thirteen states, considering the history that flourished beneath that flag.



BUFORD GROSSCUP and HAROLD SCOTT refer to a book to answer a question asked by George Porter. Both of these history teachers also have coaching responsibilities.

Looking up from the paper she is checking, MRS. IRMA COOMBS, a cheerleader sponsor and history teacher, greets our Links photographer.

. . . PSYCHOLOGY . . . WORLD HISTORY TIONAL RELATIONS

Then, too, by studying our own government and history, we develop a keen appreciation of our blessings in a democracy. With this feeling, we shall be better able to defend our country. Study of the individual is also important, for our nation will only be as strong as the people in it.

Map reading and interpetation are important parts of any history course, as MISS WILHELMINA JOHNSON, County Day sponsor, knows.

MISS FLORENCE JENKINS, Student Council sponsor, and WILLIAM PFEIFF, Links football coach, check movie schedules for their history classes. Regularly they see the Newsmagazine of the Screen, a film reviewing the last month's news events.

President of the Lincoln Teachers Association, MISS MILDRED WAIDE, mathematics teacher and financial adviser for all school publications, works with two business managers, Sandra Lichtenberg and Ross McGlasson.

Something is amusing about those odd-shaped blocks of cardboard, a few of the objects MISS RUTH HALL and MISS EDITH ELLIS use to teach their geometry classes.

Pausing to accommodate our photographer before she starts another busy day is MISS GRACE McMAHON, mathematics teacher.

MATHEMATICS

ALGEBRA . . . GEOMETRY . . .
CONSUMER AND GENERAL
MATHEMATICS . . TRIGONOMETRY
SOLID GEOMETRY

There's no getting around it. Our good training in mathematics is necessary is we ever hope to be able to balance our budgets, manage our allowances, and pass those college scholarship and entrance examinations!

An expert in conic sections, MISS JOSEPHINE WIBLE, chairman of the Mathematics Department, shows how she demonstrates to her classes.

Pupils in the mathematics classes of MISS FRANCES BUELL and MRS. LILLIAN THOMPSON are shown these magazine materials. This encourages applying mathematics in the scientific field of study.

MRS. LAVINA DVORAK, driver training instructor, questions LYLE WEYAND, basketball coach, about the prospects for a 1956 basketball championship. Both are also teachers in the Mathematics Department.

MISS HELENE SCHEMEL, science teacher, looks over a model of the heart before she demonstrates to one of her health education classes.

Examining a splint are CARL MANTHEY, science teacher, and MRS. ALICE YOUNGSCAP, school nurse. Mr. Manthey is the local American Red Cross county chairman.

The structure of the atom is a very important basic principle of nature, which LEROY COLSON, tennis coach, teaches his chemistry classes.

SCIENCE

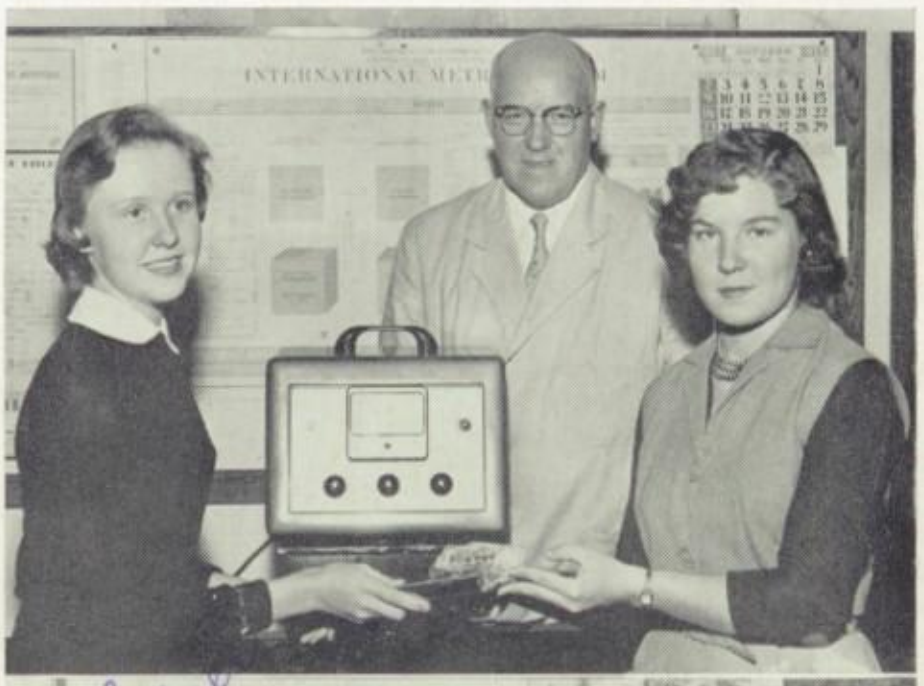
BIOLOGY . . . PHYSIOLOGY . . . PHYSICS . . . CHEMISTRY . . . HEALTH EDUCATION

With many unusual facts about leaves, hearts, electricity, and H_2O to teach us, science is indeed a fascinating field of study. Even to the student not planning a scientific career, this training is valuable in helping him to understand the phenomena of the world and in meeting unexpected emergencies.

R. W. HOWLAND and DONOVAN LUEDKE, science teachers, examine an oscilloscope, which shows changes in an electric wave by means of a wavy line produced on the fluorescent screen.

JULIUS D. YOUNG, chairman of the Science Department, shows Silvija Liepnieks and Dixie Hibbert how the Geiger Counter works.

MISS LUCY GEIGER and MRS. GLADYS TEMPLE examine a plant which is grown in the greenhouse for demonstrations in their biology classes.



Directors of vocal music are IVAN CALDWELL, Apollo Choir, Boys Octet and Boys Glee; MISS DORTHEA GORE, Girls Glees and Girls Octet; and HUGH RANGELER, Aeolian Choir and Lincoln Boys Choir.

LYLE WELCH, orchestra and band conductor, helps Barbara Housel with a difficult score. He is also co-sponsor of Orpheons with Mr. Rangeler.

Trying to decide which student drawing they will enter in a national art contest are MRS. JUDY SHAINHOLTZ and DONALD BYORTH, art instructors.

MUSIC, ART, AND FOREIGN LANGUAGES

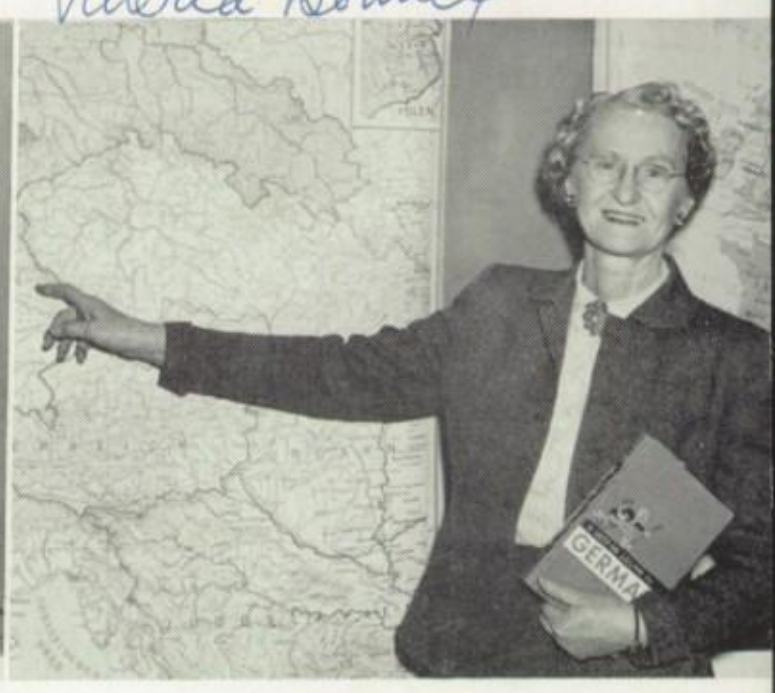
GLEE . . . CHOIR . . . OCTET . . . THEORY . . . ORCHESTRA . . . BAND . . . COMMERCIAL ART . . . DESIGN . . . CRAFTS . . . ART AND MUSIC APPRECIATION . . . LATIN . . . SPANISH . . . GERMAN . . . FRENCH

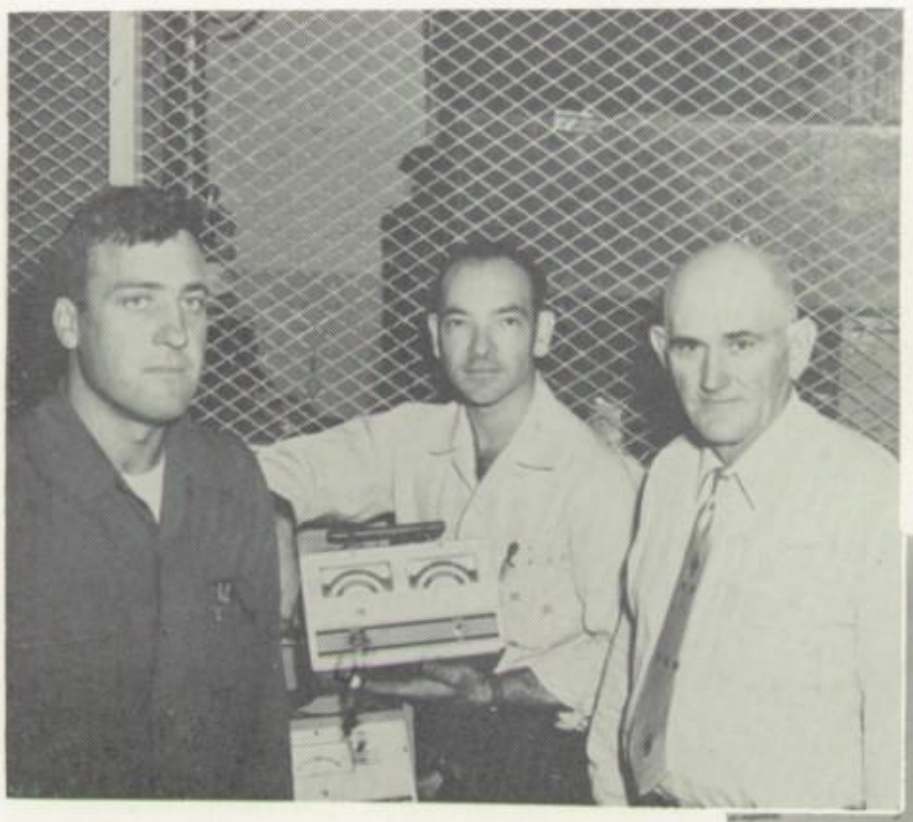
Although we often get confused about head and chest tones, oil painting, and idioms, and we sometimes don't see too much sense to this kind of "culture," subjects like these develop wonderful hobbies, providing many hours of relaxation and entertainment.

*Jim Cadwallader, Sue Thorpe, and MISS MARIE CROSS examine a picture of the tree of English words derived from one Latin word, duco.

Two fluent linguists, MISS TERESINA DANESE, Spanish teacher, and MRS. MARGARETE MOON, French teacher, are interrupted by our cameraman while looking over a map of Spain.

A knowledge of geographic locations is a valuable aid when it comes to understanding translations, as MISS VALERIA BONNELL knows.





We don't understand how that meter box works, but these men, ROBERT HARRINGTON, ALBERT LA MERE, and FRANKLIN KYKER, auto shop instructors, can tell us all about it.

Knowing that much patience and skill are needed when drawing, ARVID JOHNSON instructs his drafting pupils to work slowly and carefully, for one slip of the pen could ruin the paper.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS AND TRADES PREPARATORY

WOODWORKING . . . CARPENTRY . . . ELECTRICITY . . . PRINTING . . . AUTO MAINTENANCE . . . MACHINE SHOP . . . MECHANICAL DRAFTING

These courses help to produce skillful craftsmen—graduates from Lincoln High School. After graduation, these boys go to work in industry, establish their own businesses, or continue their educations.

CHESTER GAUSMAN, MORTEN GUNDERSEN, CLARENCE EVANS, and CLAUDE WINGROVE, shop teachers, meet to look over a copy of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education, a magazine containing an article written by Mr. Gausman.

"Woodworking is a craft useful anywhere," says EDDIE SCHWARTZKOPF to Joe Gacusana as they work together in the industrial crafts room. Mr. Schwartzkopf is often called upon to do repair work around his house.

Rae Hill watches MISS MILDRED KEMP, sewing instructor, show Janene Johnson a beautiful suit which she might make for her next sewing project.

MISS ESTHER LEFLER, chairman of the Business Department, shows MRS. LEILA HUGHES how to use the phonograph-sound box combination in dictation tests and general business courses.

Pausing for a rest while checking shorthand test papers is MISS EULALIE BRATCHER, shorthand and bookkeeping teacher and chairman of the Assembly Committee.

PRACTICAL ARTS

BOOKKEEPING . . . SHORTHAND . . . GENERAL BUSINESS . . . SELLING . . . TYPING . . . OFFICE TRAINING . . . CLERICAL PRACTICE . . . COOKING . . . SEWING

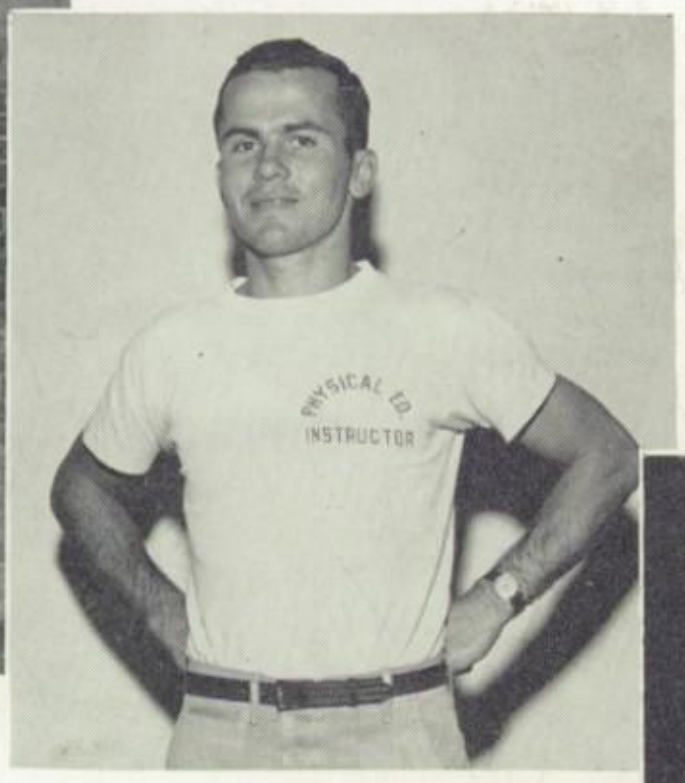
Whether the career is in the home or in the office, training in these subjects is beneficial for everyone. It's so very satisfying for a girl to be a top-notch secretary who can cook well for her husband, and she can, with her thorough training at Lincoln High!

A home economics teacher in Lincoln High, MRS. GWENDOLYN COOPER, inspects a new stove in the large remodeled practice kitchen.

MISS HELEN HAGENSICK, MISS BETTY HECKMAN, and MISS DOROTHY DUMPERT, shorthand and typing teachers, are comparing the speed acquired by pupils in their classes.

Gary Christiansen helps MRS. KATHERINE STEWART, bookkeeping teacher and chairman of the Auditing Committee, to tabulate club dues.

HAROLD GILLILAND, boys physical education instructor and wrestling coach, shows off his new tee-shirt uniform.



"Yep, that's right. We all learn to climb ropes in boys gym classes," PHIL SPRAGUE, gymnastics coach, says.

Adjusting the net on a ping-pong table is MISS HELEN JO MILLER, girls physical education teacher and co-sponsor of the Girls Athletic Association.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

FOOTBALL . . . BASKETBALL . . . BASEBALL . . . TRACK . . . TENNIS . . . SWIMMING . . . WRESTLING . . . GYMNASTICS . . . GOLF . . . INTRAMURALS

Lincoln High School has earned an enviable record in athletics. Our fine teams are produced through good basic training in physical education classes and through participation in athletics, both of which promote good health, poise, and sportsmanship.

COACHES: Seated: Harold Gilliland, wrestling; Harry Kuklin, swimming and golf; Ed Schwartzkopf, football and wrestling; Phil Sprague, gymnastics and football; Bill Pfeiff, football and track. Standing: Lyle Weyand, basketball and football; Harold Scott, track and basketball; Buford Grosscup, basketball and baseball; LeRoy Colson, tennis; Darrell Grell, baseball; Neal Hafemeister, intramurals.

HONORED SENIORS

Since 1913 a senior boy who shows achievement in athletics, scholarship, and citizenship has received the Harry Sidney Dobbins Award. Dean Sell, this year's winner, has earned two football, two basketball, and three track letters and has maintained a good scholastic average.

The H. C. Mardis Scholarship, established to honor a former principal at Lincoln High School, was awarded to Ingrida Dzenis. With a 1.4 scholastic average, she ranks eighth from the top of the class.

Winner of two outstanding awards made to seniors is Arnold Henderson. With majors in science, foreign languages, social studies, and mathematics, he has maintained a 1.1 average to receive the Lincoln High School Scholarship Key. He is also winner of the Regents' Scholarship. Alternates are: Paul Baldwin, Roger Brown, Richard Christensen, Susan Fraser, Robert Marks, George Porter, Charles Rook, Carol Thompson, and Charles Wilson.

Mary Riley was chosen Cup Girl for 1956, an honor received by the senior girl most outstanding in athletics. Mary has earned six letters and five emblems in G.A.A. activities. She ranks in the upper third of her class and has twenty-one superior ratings.

Lincoln High School is justly proud of the record made by seniors in the National Merit Examinations given for the first time this year. Eight in this school were successful in the preliminary examination, and two, Arnold Henderson and Carol Thompson, won scholarships.

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARSHIP: Arnold Henderson, George Porter, Carol Thompson, Charles Rook, Susan Fraser, Bob Marks, Biruta Adminis, and (seated) Dick Christensen.

Three years of work in scholarship, service to the school, and in extracurricular activities were climaxed this spring by the announcement of the seventy-five new members initiated into the Lincoln High chapter of the National Honor Society.

Membership is limited to fifteen percent of the class, and to be eligible a senior must be in the upper twenty-five percent of the class scholastically.

To hold their four cardinal principles, character, scholarship, leadership, and service, as goals to strive for in life is the purpose of the organization.

The keystone and flaming torch are symbolic of the National Honor Society. The keystone symbolizes the high ideals, and the flaming torch stands for the purpose of the society.

"MOMENTS TO REMEMBER"

The Senior Class officers, Mark Reimers (president), Jack Muck (secretary), Betsy Beck (treasurer), and Serge Castigliano (vice-president), are planning Senior Color Day with the assistance of Miss Crawmer and Mr. Reel, the senior counselors.

The members of the Class of 1956 will never forget . . .

the performances given by the fine athletes who had so much "heart" and such a tremendous desire to win . . .

the pep assemblies, the Peppers and Cheerleaders cheering, and the band playing "Rock Around the Clock" . . .

the hush that fell over the audience at the Christmas Vespers as the choirs sang a carol together . . .

the applause for our classmates who gave excellent performances in plays, the opera, and Joy Night . . .

the satisfaction gained by those who worked on publications, in clubs and student government and gave service to the school . . .

the pride we felt when members of the Senior Class were given recognition for their scholastic achievements, honor roll, scholarships, and National Honor Society . . .

the help that was given to us by faculty members who understood our needs and helped us to achieve great things . . .

the loyalty and companionship of our classmates during the fun of Hobo Day and the excitement of Color Day . . .

the regret we felt as our three years drew rapidly to a close . . .

graduation and the anticipation of the future in our hearts.

Although our happy days at Lincoln High are over, "we will have these moments to remember."

Seniors at play: Seen among the other characters on Hobo Day, April 6, were Dick Basoco, Janie Johnson, and Arnold Henderson.

Seniors at work: Frank Mettam, Sandy Finkel, Dave Wilhelm, and Ginny Gessner find that senior research papers require lots of note taking.

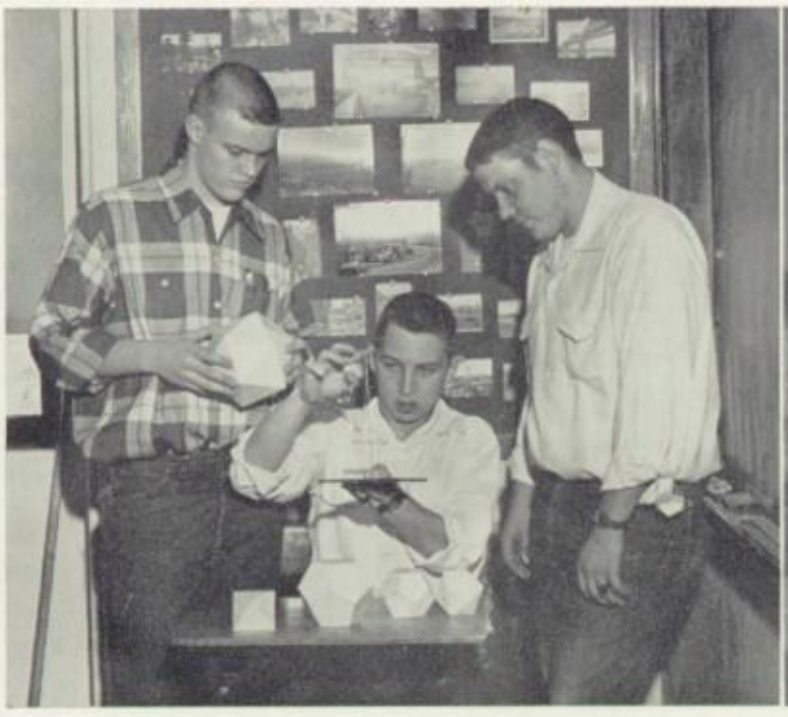
The startled faces of Ellen Chesen and Carol Topliff are seen through the fumes created by the proud chemists, Tom Sloan and Charles Rook.

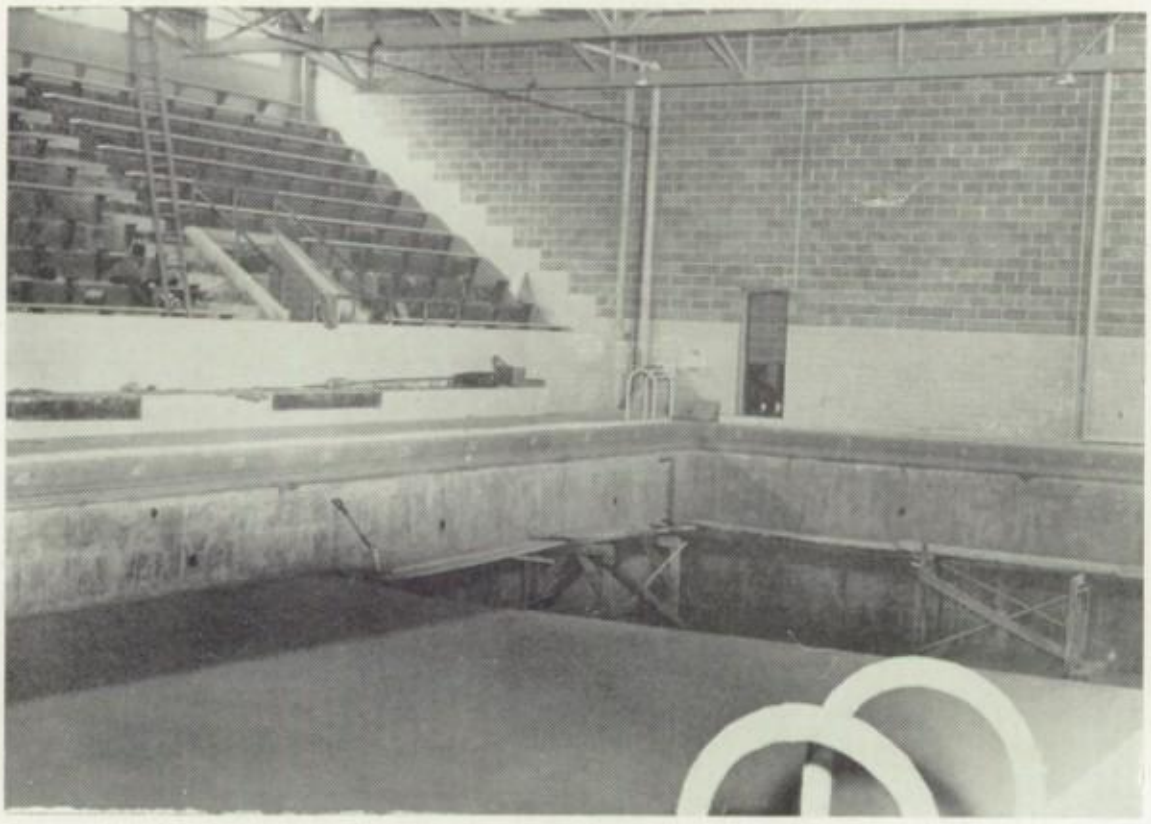
In the machine shop, Melvin Kapeller, Jerry Reed, Richard Maul, and Duane Ulrich (foreground) are operating a Bridgeport vertical mill with a dividing head attachment.

Bill Danek, Clair Morgan, and Beth Burchard are giving a miniature art store the finishing touches.

Gary Steinmiller, David Liden, and Bob Yates demonstrate several of Miss Ellis' geometric models.



Jackie Baars (standing) is holding the interest of John Kellogg, Richard Snyder, Clyde Ault, and Gary Wolf, but Ron Kastanek seems to be sleeping during her speech.



This unfinished swimming pool will be just one of the outstanding new features of the Lincoln Public Schools Activities Building, annexed to Lincoln High. It will have extra shallow space for teaching swimming, as well as a good heating unit, underwater sound system, and bleachers seating four hundred fifty spectators.

WHAT'S NEW IN

Pepper hats, pennants, and pompoms . . . basketball programs . . . Lincoln Public Schools Activities Building . . . popcorn machine . . . language laboratory . . . home economics room . . Twirler of the Year . . . girls aqua gym suits . . . Merit Scholarship . . . Kuklin's Improved Scholarship Trophy . . . printing press . . . driver training reaction equipment . . . parking lot gravel . . . new diagonal . . . Student Council basketball programs and handbook . . . "How Do You Do" song . . . Venus, Student Council members, Jean Sell, Jeanne Carrier, Bill Danek, and Doug Keill, sell basketball programs, a new project for raising funds to be used for a student lounge.

"Boy, that smells delicious!" think Jackie Goodman, Beth Pietenpol, and Margaret Borner, as they look into a pot in a new built-in stove. The entire home economics lab was repainted, and colorful new stoves, refrigerators, sinks, and cupboards were installed. Look for enrollment in the cooking classes to increase.

Wrestler Harold Casement, swimmer Larry Converse, and gymnast Jim Wertz search for places in the trophy cabinets to put their teams' newly-won trophies. They are proud to see how full the cupboards already are, too.

A new French teacher, Miss Jeanne Beck, joined the faculty second semester. She enjoys working with students like Elizabeth Morris, Barbara Tanner, Janet TeSelle, Ann Billmyer, Sharon Smith, and Sharon Murphy in the new language lab.

LINCOLN HIGH

Mars yell . . . auditorium amplifier . . . Advocate "Letters to the Editor" column . . . new uniforms for the wrestling and basketball teams . . . TAPS program . . . International Club "Boy Most-Likely-to-be-Chased" and "Girl Most-Likely-to-Catch-Him" elections . . . new trophies . . . golfer hats . . . National Forensic League charter . . .

Demonstrating the new sound amplifier in the auditorium balcony booth is Gary Calkins. This will greatly add to the comfort of the audience.

Ready to leave for a game in their golfer hats, which were the rage this year, are Bob Gibson, Bob Schrepf, and Dave Liden.

Roma Miller and Barbara Beechner, Peppers, model this year's new black beanies and felt Links pennants.

School isn't all work and no fun, as anyone can see by the smiles of Don Whitemon, Janice Hellweg, Mike Burke, Bill Arledge, Sally Purviance, Kenny Pocras, Donna Hoy, and Dotty Ritchey.

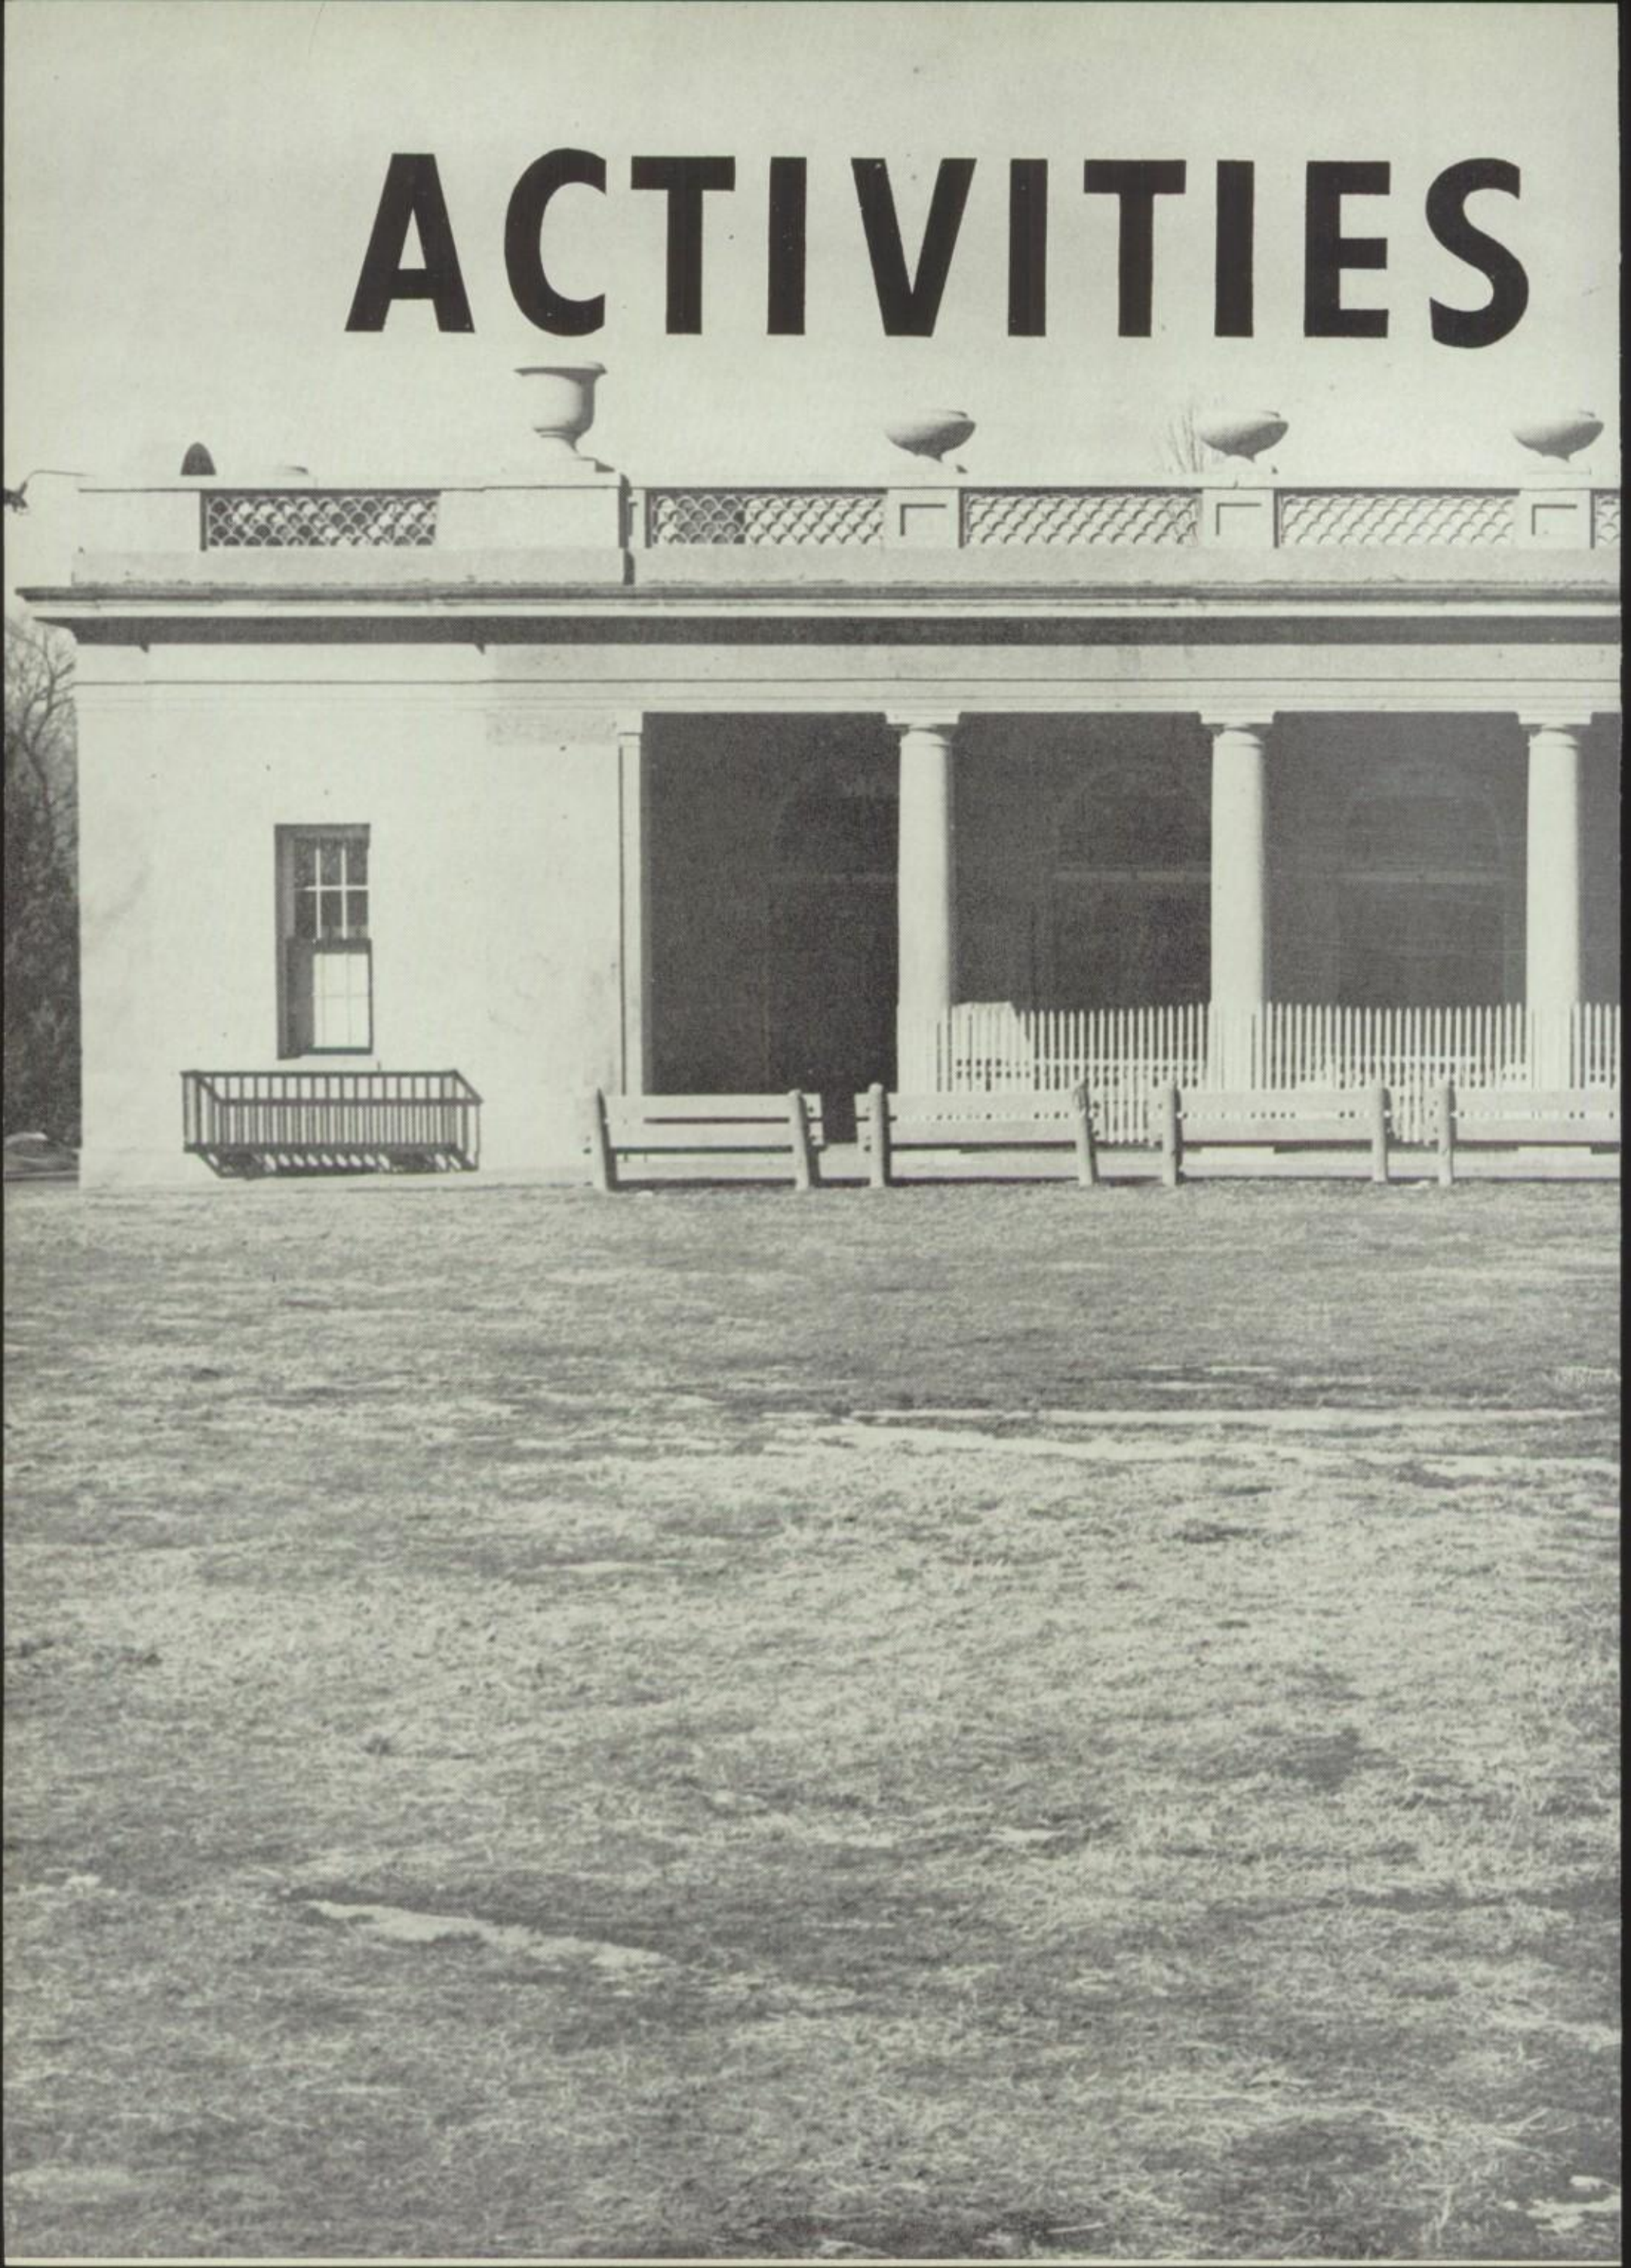
ACTIVITIES



At the Football Banquet, Dick Jacobs presents to Bill Pfeiff, football coach, a memorial plaque for ten years of outstanding service.

BUSY YEAR FOR STUDENT COUNCIL

Scene: A Lincoln High basketball game.

Time: Before and during game.

Cast of Characters: Student Council members from Lincoln High.

Student Council member: Programs! Get your basketball programs here!!

This scene was enacted many times during the basketball season. After deciding the programs would be a popular and worthy project, the Student Council gathered and assembled the material. As predicted, they met with success, and the proceeds were invested in the decoration of a future student lounge at Lincoln High.

The junior and senior members of the Student Council were elected in the spring by the student body to serve the following year, and the sophomores were chosen in the fall. The twenty-four met twice a week in a Student Council class.

Besides the basketball programs, the council worked on several other projects. The annual sale of football and basketball schedule pencils remained popular as always and helped rally interest in the school teams.

Working on the new school handbook in Dallas Hunt's home are Jean Garlinghouse, Linda Walt, Miss Florence Jenkins, Dallas Hunt, and Sharon Quinn.

The annual Football Banquet was sponsored by the council and held at Cotner Terrace. Since this year was Coach Bill Pfeiff's tenth anniversary at Lincoln High, those attending came especially to honor the coach who has produced outstanding Links teams, season after season. Several former teammates and players whom he had coached returned to join in the evening's tribute.

After preparing a handbook of activities and school information for Lincoln High pupils, the council spent the second semester revising its outdated constitution and studying parliamentary procedure with the help of Dallas Hunt and Dick Jacobs, who studied it as Nebraska's representatives to the National Student Council Camp.

Leland Liming, Sharon Anderson, Yogi Hergenrader, Jeanne Carrier, and Jim Cadwallader are busy in one of the many sessions needed for revising the Student Council constitution.

Tom Sloan, Sarah Colby, Doug Keill, and Sally Downs are keeping the club schedule board up-to-date.

HELPING HANDS

In a united effort, the Home Room Representatives and Alternates marched from their meeting, reported to their individual home room classes about the Lincoln Community Chest's need for more funds, and collected about three hundred eighty dollars in two weeks to be donated from Lincoln High. The delegates also rose to the occasion during the Red Cross drive, the Polio drive, and class dues-collecting time, gathering another substantial amount.

When spring rolled around, these pupils planned a successful, gay spring dance. Through working on these projects, the pupils now know that work and fun go into the planning of school activities.

JoAnn Botts and Barbara Carey share and compare their campaign badges.

John Hoerner can't quite make up his mind about the coming election, and Judy Hanneman, Jack Houchen, and Barbara Barker seem to be trying to help him decide.

POTENTIAL POLITICIANS

COUNTY DAY! The opportunity for the teen-agers to tackle the political headaches of the county officials and to get the inside story of how the government operates.

After the office filings, this adventure progresses as a line forms in front of Miss Weatherby's office to have posters approved. Later these approved posters are spotted, plastered over every available wall space, and students are seen covered with brightly-colored campaign badges.

The number of candidates for each office dwindles after the primary, and then the suspense ends as the results of the finals are announced in the Advocate.

For the winners County Day starts with a "see-everything" tour. After a hotel luncheon, they return to the court house for more study of their separate offices. A final general meeting climaxes their memorable County Day.

COUNTY DAY WINNERS: Standing: Carrier, Cadwallader, Ellsworth. Sitting: Colby, Gacusana, Liming, Lind.

N.H.S.P.A. contest winners, Diane Stohlman, Dorothy Hall, George Porter, Pat Tobin, and Shirley Chermok, proudly examine the Advocate's Omaha World-Herald award.

Proofreading is a job which must be done carefully, as Marcella Berger, John Kellogg, Judy Phipps, Barbara Hammond, and Rolf Meyer well know!

Sally Downs, Sandra Johns, Bobbie Jo Kelly, Diana Gease, Sue-Ann Schnabel, and Badgie Evolga watch as Ross McGlasson, business manager, points out spaces for more advertisements.

ADVOCATE

Busy are the students in room 219, for, under the direction of Miss Marian McElhaney, they are constantly working to put out the Advocate. They spend many hours reporting all the events that take place in Lincoln High.

Productions, clubs, contests, elections, and student and faculty activities are all recorded. Features and editorials give staff members a chance to do creative writing and to express their views. Of course, close check is kept on all sports activities.

A new addition this year is the "Let-

Lots of the fun on the Advocate staff comes from reading exchange papers as Jane McLaughlin, Ron Kastanek, Karen Kruce, and Rosemary Hergenrader are doing.

Jack Houchen watches attentively as Judy Griffin, Margaret Wertman, and Ron Pearson check the camera to make sure it will work correctly.

The second-semester page two editor, Charmian Newman, assigns some interesting features and surveys to Zeff Bernstien, Betsy Beck, Gail McAllister, and Larry Dubas.

ters to the Editors" section. This pulse beat of the student body's feelings increased the practice of democracy in our school.

Eleven first-semester staff members attended the National Scholastic Press Association summer convention in Chicago. In addition to much entertainment, they received helpful ideas from national journalism experts about newspaper publishing.

The Nebraska High School Press Association Convention, held at the University of Nebraska, was well attended by Advocate members. Besides winning places in various contests, those attending were thrilled to accept the Omaha World-Herald award, citing the Advocate as the best printed newspaper in a large Nebraska high school.

As the year closes, several staff members have been initiated into Quill and Scroll, national high school journalism honorary, and they all agree that they have learned cooperation and responsibility from their experience on the Advocate.

Ready to go on another of their biweekly paper routes are Sue Thorpe, Tom Bainbridge, Susan Brown, and Becky Goodman.

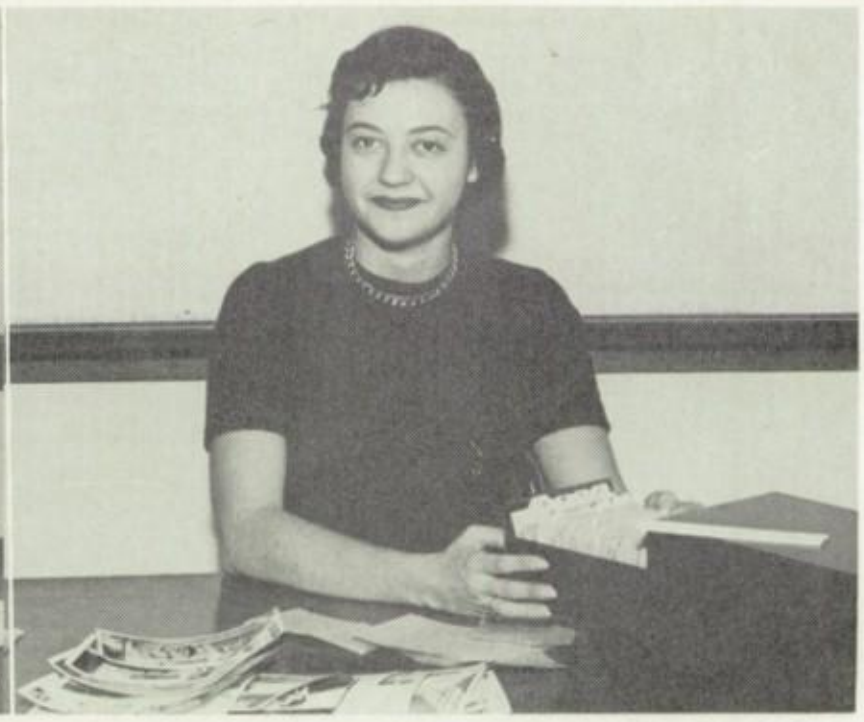
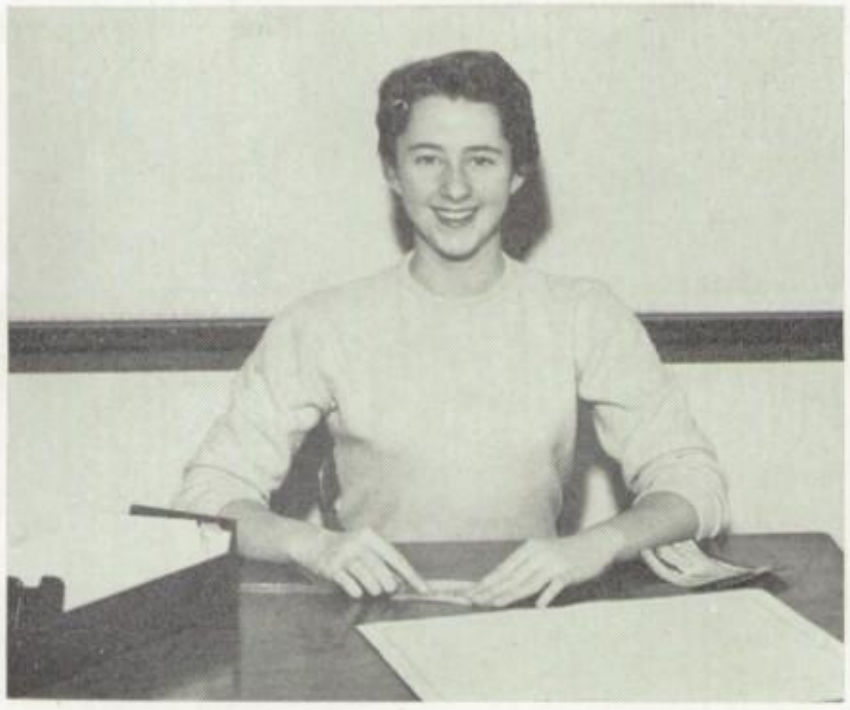
In her attempts to write copy that "sparkled," meet with the printer and engraver, work with the staff members, and edit, Claire Prucha, editor, lost pounds, sleep, and almost sanity.



Barbara Bible, managing editor, is the only who can ever locate the negatives she has filed. Her main work, though, was making up all pages and trimming cut-outs.

Making up the senior section was the job of Jean Garlinghouse, senior biography editor. After working with senior pictures and biographies for a year, she feels she knows all seniors personally.



YEARBOOK . .

The books have arrived. The many long and enjoyable hours of work have ended. Now this 1956 Links is yours. But there is a story behind it.

The book began with the Lincoln theme idea which came to the board members in Chicago during the summer N.S.P.A. convention. After investigation it was learned that our school was officially named for Abraham Lincoln, so the theme was chosen.

There were pictures to be taken, which would record all the pleasant occasions of the year; copy to be written, which would recall memories as the years passed; a cover and layouts to be planned, which would lend enjoyment and beauty to the book; ads to be solicited, and bills to be paid. There were good times to be had, too, and much to be learned.

"Does anyone know who this guy is?" was a frequent query from Jo Ann Gabarron, formal photography editor, while making up the junior and sophomore sections, in addition to arranging for pictures and indexing.

FULL OF MEMORIES

The book is finished now. It is yours, and the Links Board hopes you will enjoy it.

Karen Kahler, writer; Roger Brown, typist; Lynne Meyers and George Porter, writers; and Ann Pearce, typist, read Scholastic Editor, while Laurie Abernethy and Jerry Jacoby, artists, examine a cartoon.

Dick Youngscap, Carol Thompson, Elizabeth Smith, and Dick Jacobs, writers; and Rebecca Bradley, typist, wait around with more sheets of copy for Karen Witt to type.

Sandra Lichtenberg, business manager, was unanimously elected Eighth Wonder of the World, for in addition to keeping the Links accounts in order, she found time to help with other work, too.

There wouldn't be pictures in a yearbook without photographers, and so the board kept the two Dicks, Schultz and Walker, busy clicking shutters every minute salvaged from the developing room.

LANGUAGE ARTISTS

The Debate Squad, all underclassmen this year, had as their main objective getting experience.

Coached by Clinton Nelson, they debated at Midland, Hastings College, Sioux City, and Omaha. They also entered the Missouri Valley Boys and Girls tournaments. A highlight of the season occurred when the team of Mike Graetz and Gary Hill topped thirty-nine other teams to win a trophy in the Beginners Tournament at Northeast.

Their activities were instrumental in earning a National Forensic League Charter for L.H.S. This is a National society to encourage speech activities.

New to Lincoln High is Quill and Scroll, international high school journalism honorary. The chapter, started here in the spring of 1955, is open to juniors and seniors on the Links and Advocate staffs who have done superior work in journalism.

Quill and Scroll society, by setting forth high standards and by recognizing outstanding individual effort, offers a challenge to Lincoln High journalists.

SERVICE PLUS

Assuring you of a pleasant evening at Lincoln High productions are the Usherettes and Doormen. A Doorman takes your ticket, and an Usherette, handing you a program, shows you to your seat. During the performance the Doormen direct hall activities and, as you leave, open the doors for you.

Wouldn't you like to watch movies every day? That's the entertainment the Movie Operators enjoy when running projectors for various classes. If the show is interrupted by a broken film, the boys splice or tape it so the show can continue. After the movie is over, they rewind the film and wait for the next class.

MOVIE OPERATORS: Row 1: Wright, Shepard, Witte, Wolf, Schumacher, Walker, Kimm. Row 2: Bostic, Jerry Sievers, Steinmiller, Burke, Jim Sievers, B. Sievers, Bigley, Stein.

The Y.M.C.A. representative, Mr. Bagley (Fred Henke), and the physical culturess, Miss Glavin (Sandra Ellis), on the right, are coached by Roslyn Anderson, student director (center).

Ruth Gordon Jones (Gail McAllister) is being asked to the Harvard Class Picnic by her beau, Fred Whitmarsh (Roger Brown), but she decides to pursue her career instead of Fred.

YEARS AGO

"A dream is a wish your heart makes" . . . and Ruth Gordon Jones' dream was to become a great actress. There was only one big obstacle . . . Her papa said "No!" He wanted Ruth to be a physical culturess. Years Ago is the story of Ruth's struggle to change her father's mind.

Though tempted by a boy friend's invitation to the Harvard Class Day Picnic, she turned it down, increased her determination, and finally her father consented to let her enroll in a New York dramatic school. There she took the name Ruth Gordon, and in time her dream came true . . . She became a truly great actress.

Ruth's parents, Clinton and Annie Jones (Arnold Henderson and Emma Mengel), appear smiling here, but in the play Ruth gave them so much trouble they didn't have much time or cause for smiles.

Anna Witham (Melissa Miller) and Katherine Follett (Martha Crocker), two of Ruth's best friends, play with the Jones' cat, Punk, while Mr. Sparrow, the local handyman (Dick Basoco), watches.

Ray Shepard and Frank Gillen, student directors for the junior play, study the script to work out a special scene.

Ginger's mother (Pat Porter) and father (Dave Calhoun) can now relax, for Ginger (Pat Myers) and her football days are over, thanks to Tommy Green (Roger Dean).

TIME OUT FOR GINGER

What would you do if your father made a public statement in which he said that children should not be forced to do anything that infringes on their "human dignity" or said that nothing should prevent them from being their true selves? Perhaps you would react as Mr. Carol's three daughters did in the junior play, Time Out For Ginger.

The oldest girls boycotted their girls gym class because it lowered their feminine dignity. Ginger, the youngest, horrified everyone by making the school football team.

When news of Ginger's accomplishments appeared in Life magazine, the father almost lost his job in the bank. However, Tommy Green, Ginger's boy friend, saved the day by making her realize that being a young lady was much nicer than playing football.

Ginger's older sisters, Jeannie (Pat Burnett) and Joan (Kay Beckman), read about her in Life magazine, while Joan's football-playing boy friend, Eddie (Chuck Doty), looks disgusted.

The speech of Ginger's father gets him in trouble with the school principal (Hans Leuschner) and the bank president (Paul Kreiss), but Lizzie, the maid (Jeannette Wells), stands by the family during all the excitement.

The entire Aeolian Choir opera group gathers for the finale at the end of act one.

THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE

Frederic has problems. Though apprenticed to the Pirates of Penzance by mistake, he longs to be free. Believing his twenty-first birthday will set him free, he does not hesitate to fall in love with Mabel, one of the many beautiful daughters of Major-General Standley. However, his pirate comrades unexpectedly seize the girls and plan to wed them. General Standley, playing on the sympathies of the soft-hearted pirates, tells them that he is an orphan as they are, and he thereby saves his daughters.

After the falsehood is uttered, the general is sorry, but he seeks help from a timid corps of police, who will arrest the pirates.

Meanwhile Frederic learns that since he was born on February 29, in leap year, he won't reach his twenty-first birthday for years, so he must remain a pirate. He separates from Mabel and confesses to the pirates that General Standley's story was a lie.

Mabel (Lucy Webster) swears to Frederic (Kenny Mathis) that she will be true even though she must wait for him many, many years.

The not-so-brave policemen quake at the thought of tangling with the infamous Pirates of Penzance.

Samuel (John Ritchey) grabs for himself two of General Standley's daughters, Isabel (Nancy Chrastil) and Edith (Martha Crocker).

Kate (Joyce Wall) pleads with the pirate king (Mike Morley) to let her, her father, and her sisters leave in safety.

The pirates, attacking the general, are in turn struck by the police, who lose the battle. The pirates, however, surrender when the queen's name is mentioned, for they love the regent.

Ruth, the pirate follower, discloses that the pirates are really noblemen who have gone wrong, so all is forgiven. The major-general gives away all his daughters in marriage, and everyone lives happily ever after.

Ruth (Donna Simecek), Frederic's nursemaid who followed him to the pirate world, finally gets her man by tackling the Sergeant of Police (Howy Vosika).

Major-General Standley (Bob Hays), remorseful because of the untrue story he told the pirates, is comforted by two of his daughters (Melissa Miller and Beth Burchard).

IF I HAD

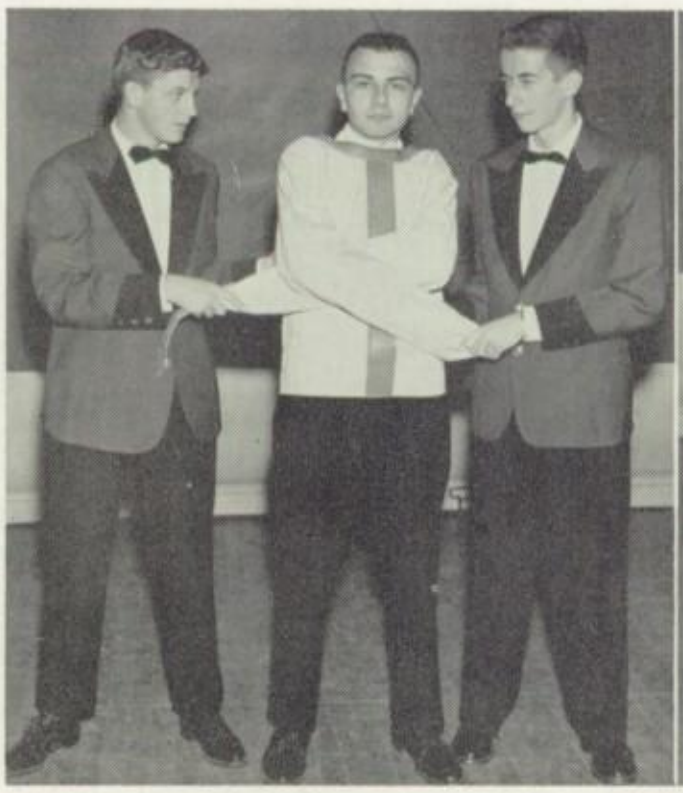
Lights! Organ! Action! Joy Night, Lincoln High's annual variety show, opened with the theme, "If I Had One Wish."

The Boys Glee set the mood at the beginning by "Just Wishin'."

Working on a "Decision" about their talent show winners was a junior girls group. The Girls Octet wished for love during "Reflections in the Rain."

A group of senior boys had a sergeant with "No Time for Privates," while a tap-dancing "Torrid Toreador" found he had a lazy bull.

To coordinate the Joy Night acts and carry out the theme, Johnny Cox plays musical interludes on the organ.



Bill Guhrke and Ronald Lingle prepare Ron Crisp to hang from the ceiling and struggle from a straight jacket in "Shades of Houdini."

Joyce Burns really inspires applause as she performs "Fancy Feats" with baton-twirling and acrobatics.

ONE WISH

A piano duet and drummer created a "Spanish Paradise," and a tap line wished to be young again in "Dollies Follies."

Junior girls' "A Little Golden Wish" was for an L pin, while the wish for some senior "Gentlemen of Music" was singing in a choir.

The faculty discouraged "Wishful Thinking" of those wanting to return to school. The Girls Glee closed the successful show by "Losin' the Blues."

"Mad Hatters" wishing for new hats are dancers, Sharon Quinn and Sally Downs. They finally just exchange bonnets.

Indulging in a little "Nostalgia" and some good old barbershop songs are Boys Octet members, Howy Vosika, Johnny Ritchey, Bob Elliott, Dick Byers, Kenny Mathis, Bob Ellenwood, Bob Hays, and Mike Morley.

SENIOR MUSIC I

Few will ever forget moments like those when the Aeolian Choir, directed by Hugh Rangeler, sang the beautiful lyrics of The Stork in the Christmas Assembly, when the moving Thanksgiving Hymn was sung by Ivan Caldwell's Apollo Choir in the Thanksgiving Assembly, or when the two choirs were joined by the audience to sing the lovely Silent Night in a bond of fellowship during the Christmas Vesper.

To prove its versatility, however, the Aeolian Choir included in its repertoire the sprightly Echo Song for the State Teachers Convention, and the Apollo group sang the brisk Russian Picnic in its vesper concert.

THE AIR . . . EVERYWHERE

These and many other songs in vesper concerts, the Easter Assembly, and performances for other schools and Lincoln civic business organizations brought music to many hearts. Wherever the two senior choirs sang, their visits were enjoyed . . . and remembered.

The Pirates of Penzance, a gay, lilting opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, was successfully presented in February by the Aeolian Choir, with assistance from the Apollo Choir.

The members of the choirs ended their school careers by singing at their own graduation services, closing a year truly filled with music.

MUSIC . . .

Here's a recipe which is guaranteed to make wonderful entertainment.

Take one excellent director named Miss Gore. Blend the voices of eighty junior girls, liberally blessed with talent. Sift in enjoyable songs, and for flavor add a dash of "sugar, spice, and everything nice." Top with charm, beauty, and bounce, sprinkled with merriment. Serve to audiences in the Christmas assembly, vesper concerts, Joy Night, junior high schools, and business organizations.

What do you have? One of the best Junior Glees ever to sing for Lincoln High, of course!

GIRLS OCTET: Webster, Hansen, Crocker, Williams, Sell, Parrott, Jones, Simecek, Grabenstein, accompanist.

AND MORE MUSIC

"Snips and snails and puppy-dog tails" —anyone who has ever heard the Boys Glee sing knows that music should have been included in that nursery rhyme, for these boys, directed by Ivan Caldwell, enjoy singing rollicking ditties and lovely sacred songs at the Christmas assembly, vesper concerts, and Joy Night.

We heard real music when the Boys Octet sang. The boys, also sponsored by Ivan Caldwell, made many friends when they sang for vespers, assemblies, and business organizations.

Not to be outdone by the boys, Miss Gore's Girls Octet, dressed in black wool blouses and felt skirts decorated with red musical notes, charmed their audiences with their beautifully blended voices.

LIVELY BAND

We'll remember the Lincoln High Band, all right. We heard it first during the football season, playing "The Yellow Rose of Texas." We heard it entertaining in half-time ceremonies on the field . . . beating out the tempo on the drums for the madly cheering fans.

We remember that, because of the large size of the group, two smaller bands, led by student directors, Duane Zieg and Kenny Wacker, were formed to play for alternating basketball games and pep assemblies.

The trumpets rocked, the cornets rocked, and everybody rocked to "Rock Around the Clock," "Maybelline," "When the Links Go Marching In," and many others which raised the tired spirits of the athletes and student body.

DREAMY ORCHESTRA

Directed by Lyle Welch, the whole group was asked to perform for various other occasions, too . . . the dedication ceremonies for the new Harris Overpass . . . a vesper concert . . . assemblies for Lincoln High and the junior high schools.

At the same time, while reminiscing, one couldn't help remembering the Orchestra, also directed by Lyle Welch. This group played beautiful, soft music for so many pleased audiences . . . those arriving early for school plays . . . those attending the opera, Pirates of Penzance . . . vesper concerts . . . school assemblies.

Though the thrill of producing lovely, harmonious tones which weave a musical story would be reward enough for the many hours of practice involved, the thanks of the public is especially gratifying.

PRACTICING FOR PERFECTION

It would be wonderful if we could do something by just wishing on a star, but the members of the Sophomore Band know that it takes hours of practice to achieve a perfection high enough to qualify for the Advanced Band.

With this much-desired goal in mind, the band members practice not only their music, but also performance techniques like marching, posture, and various flourishes. The group also made some appearances at games to help themselves gain poise before the public.

Working hard, too, were the baton and flag twirlers. These high-stepping lassies in their red satin costumes worked with the band in presenting half-time skits at football games. Whenever the Lone Stranger wasn't rescuing some helpless damsel from a villain, there was something like a wedding in march music.

Although it takes time and practice, these "guys and gals" keep on working for perfection.

SERVICE COMMITTEES

Several new books are in the school library because of the efforts of the Library Committee, who read and helped choose them.

The Extra Curricular Activities Committee checked E. C. A. points so that no pupil had more than fourteen points or four activities.

We have the Assembly Committee members to thank for planning and introducing all the interesting assemblies.

By sponsoring fire and civil defense drills, the Safety Committee tried to keep pupils alert to dangers.

Jane Rogers, assistant editor; Clair Morgan, artist; Sue-Ann Schnabel, editor; Lynne Meyers, business manager; and Kate Haggie, managing editor, pore over some of the many manuscripts submitted for the 1956 Scribe.

The second semester officers, Jeanne Carrier, president; Deanne Duis, treasurer; and Connie Toland, secretary, are discussing the program for the next Writers Club meeting. Not pictured is Mary Ann Myers, vice-president.

A ROAMING WRITER

As one walks down the hall, he may glance into room 303 and find members of Writers Club, with imaginations wandering off to wherever ideas dwell, working on anything from essays about technicolor dreams to comic commercials. Or perhaps this person finds them listening intently to a speaker, playing writing games, or having a party.

He joins them second semester. He helps them to choose the Scribe staff, which organizes the magazine containing original essays, poems, and short stories written by Lincoln High pupils. All in the club help the staff by reading and criticizing the entries, and they are proud when they see the finished product.

THE CALL OF FAR-AWAY PLACES

Far-away places and strange-sounding names are calling International Club members to journey around the world by way of slides and lectures presented by students who have visited those places.

In addition to some who have lived or vacationed abroad, four students under the American Field Service plan visited European families during the summer and brought back a spirit of brotherhood to share with others.

Two A. F. S. European students are also living here this year, so the adventures of these people will inspire members of the club in their dreams of travel.

THEATRICS INCORPORATED

The magic of the theater definitely has a strong hold on the members of Mummers Club, junior-senior dramatics group. Acting, directing, advertising, makeup, costuming —all part of the romance of the stage— were studied and practiced by this Lincoln High stage company as the rousing comedy, Seven Keys to Baldpate, was presented.

The waiting understudies are the members of Mimes, dramatics club for sophomores. They presented skits and readings for members of their own group, and this year a gala Christmas party was enjoyed. Striving to overcome stage fright, they look forward to the day when they, too, will join the ranks behind the foot lights.

Mr. Quimby (Mike Graetz), Baldpate innkeeper, and his wife (Darlene Tisher) are terrorized by Peters, the hermit-ghost (Arnold Henderson), while owner (Roger Dean) looks aghast.

SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE

Author William Magee, after betting that he can write a novel in twenty-four hours, goes to deserted Baldpate Inn thinking he has the only key.

A mayor, railroad president, mayor's fiancee, and a police inspector show up with more "only" keys and try to steal some government money. A hermit-ghost appears with a sixth key and burns the money. The owner arrives with the seventh key and reveals that the play was actually the story Magee wrote at Baldpate Inn.

Dorothy Hall and Jane McLaughlin, student directors of this Mummers production, must know the script better than the actors do.

Author Magee (Zeff Bernstien) falls in love at first sight with a newspaper reporter, Mary Norton (Badgie Evolga).

The gangster, Lou Max (Dick Basoco), prepares to shoot his double-crossing girl, Myra Thornhill (Betsy Beck), and the crooked mayor, Jim Corgon (Brad Wright), and his fiancee, Mrs. Rhodes (Janice Hellweg), look too scared to do anything.

Railroad owner (Roger Brown) isn't worried, as two policemen (Fred Henke and Jim Rhea) and Police Inspector Kennedy (Bill Orwig) hold him at bay, for Jim Bland (Tom Jones), his henchman, is taking care of everything.

The Ancient and Honorable Order of Music Makers, better known to us as Orpheons, is a junior-senior club, organized for the advancement of poise, polish, fun, and entertainment among students gifted in a musical direction. Membership is obtained by private tryout.

Thus it is also with Clef Club, the sophomore music organization. The members meet twice a month, and each member is asked to perform once a semester for the others. These musicians exhibit the same enthusiasm and talent as members of the upper-class counterpart.

A WORKSHOP AND A TEA

Deep in their workshop, surrounded by half-finished canvases, paint rags, newspapers, and jars of paint, the members of Art Club are found ambitiously working on their projects and exchanging secrets of their trade with one another. Now and then these potential artists take time out to visit with professional artists about a future in the field of art. If earnestness is any indication, these should be among the outstanding artists of tomorrow.

Amid clinking punch glasses and cookie-munching, each of the fifty Senior Coed Counselors met the six sophomore girls whom she would help during the year. Whenever a locker refused to open or her charge was lost in the hall, the Senior Counselor came to the rescue. Besides helping the new arrivals become acquainted with the school, she also provided home-made candy for the senior and Mummers plays, the opera, and Joy Night.

LOVELY MERMAIDS

Girls with a flair for water are the Aqualinks, who learn synchronized swimming under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Roberts. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors may belong after proving their ability to the club officers.

This year the members practiced hard on ballet legs, dolphins, porpoises, sculling, submarines, and many other routines, while they were planning their spring show, "Fantaseas," a water ballet, which was given April 20 and 21.

CAPS FOR FUTURE NURSES

The scene is a hospital capping service. Among those in the audience are members of Lincoln High's Future Nurses Club.

These girls have had professional nurses talk to them throughout the year about the variety of nursing jobs to be had, and Mrs. Alice Youngscap, R. N., the school nurse and their sponsor, has guided them in choosing school courses helpful for a nursing career.

Several times they have visited hospitals to observe the equipment, nurses training programs, and now to watch the capping ceremonies. As they sit there, the vision of a white cap for each of them seems more nearly a reality.

CLICKING CAMERAS, SEARCHING SCIENCE

Learning how to take and develop a good picture was the main project of the Camera Club this year. Much time was spent in the darkroom learning picture developing. Taking trips and comparing notes with similar clubs made photography more fun for the members and improved their skill with a camera.

Experiments, speakers, and trips kept Science Club members busy learning about everything from soap bubbles to snakes. Einstein's theory of relativity and tree grafting were delved into, while star hikes made astronomy more exciting for these budding scientists who have a lively interest in what is going on around them.

There you are, surrounded by tulle and taffeta. Music drifts through the air. The drums roll, and a voice announces, "The new Snow Ball Queen is JoAnn Gabarron from Lincoln High School!" Where are you? Why, the Y-Teen Snow Ball Formal, of course.

"Who are the Y-Teens anyway?" you ask. They're a group of girls belonging to a world-wide organization, sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. Lincoln High's club sells Links plastic book covers to students, collects money for a World Fellowship Fund to build international good will, and invites the Y-Teen parents to an installation banquet.

But of course you know that, for you've seen her busy making the lucky horseshoe for football games, planning skits for pep assemblies, and selling Links car stickers

THE CHEERLEADERS AND THE PLAYERS

Leading the student body at the games, both at home and out of town, the Cheerleaders did much to make the sports year a success at Lincoln High. Participating in the pep rallies and team send-offs, the girls were a big spark in the school morale.

The Cheerleaders are divided into two groups, Varsity and Apprentice. The ten Varsity Cheerleaders are seniors, and the six junior Apprentice Cheerleaders practice to take over next year by leading the cheers for the reserve and sophomore games.

The L Club this year seemed to hit another all-time high for white sweaters, the symbols of belonging to a state champion team. To earn their sweaters and L pins, the athletes practiced many long hours, developed their skills, and improved throughout the season in their respective sports to bring glory to the Red and Black.

Again this year, intramural sports provided a good physical outlet for ambitious Lincoln High students.

Under the able direction of Neil Hafemeister, a program was organized that included almost every sport. Those athletically minded could choose any activity from ping-pong to wrestling, and the announcement of an intramural tournament usually created a great deal of interest among pupils.

The competitive sports were organized for action between home rooms, although some sports were inter-class.

Intramural football winners were (front row) Duane McGowen, Oliver Pillard, Tom Wicken, Bill Rowlands, and (back row) Mathew Sheridan, Tom Morrissey, Gordon Jones, and Chuck Gordon, who all played for home room 120.

The 1955 season was a fine example of what the morale and fight of an undermanned crew can do. Losing players before the season started and continually throughout the season until they had only twenty-four squad members, the Links completed a surprisingly good season. With hard work, strength and coordination continued to build as the season progressed, and the Links ended third in the state with a 6-2-1 record.

Lincoln High got off to a slow start as Omaha Central won a close game 21-20. The Links were unable to overcome a 21-point barrage by Central in the first quarter.

An improvement in timing and fundamentals helped give Lincoln their first win, as they downed North Platte 19-7. Gaining momentum, the Red and Black won their second game over Sioux City Central 20-0. Lincoln's defense was outstanding as they held the Maroons scoreless.

victory over Grand Island 14-0. The scoreless second half was an exhibition of the stout defensive play of both clubs.

Leaving home for the first time of the season, Lincoln pounced on undefeated Scottsbluff 27-0. The defense held once more, and the offense sparked as well. The Omaha North Vikings were left stunned as the morale of the Links carried them from a 7-25 near-defeat into a 28-25 victory. Twenty-two points behind, Lincoln came up with a story-book ending and scored three touchdowns in the last thirteen minutes of play. Dave Hann scored fifteen points in the amazing victory to lead the Links' scoring.

Lincoln High muffed a 14-0 half-time lead as Omaha South came back to tie them 14-14. After scoring twice in the first quarter, Lincoln could not cross the stripes again, as the South defense tightened.

Lincoln's homecoming was hampered by a powerful and speedy Omaha Tech team, as the Links took their second defeat 19-34.

Lincoln closed its season by blasting Northeast for the thirteenth time in fifteen meetings, 34-12. A slow first half ended with a 7-6 lead for the Links, but they ripped loose in the second half. Dick Jacobs, senior tailback, scored with a 63-yard run, Galois scored twice more, and Don Swanson scored the final touchdown on a two-yard plunge. All team members played well as they closed a successful season.

The Links received a good share of post-season honors. Dean Sell, Jack Muck, Ron Galois, Dick Jacobs, Joe Gacusana, and John Elliott were all named to Lincoln's All-City Team, while Dave Hann and Mark Reimers received honorable mention.

Ron Galois, Links back, was placed on the All-State and Class A first teams, and Dick Jacobs was on the Class A second team. Other fine players receiving honorable mention were Joe Gacusana, Dean Sell, Mark Reimers, Jack Muck, John Elliott, and Dave Hann.

Credit is also due to the rest of the team members, unsung heroes though they be, who played their best for Lincoln High, and without whom the season would not have been so successful.

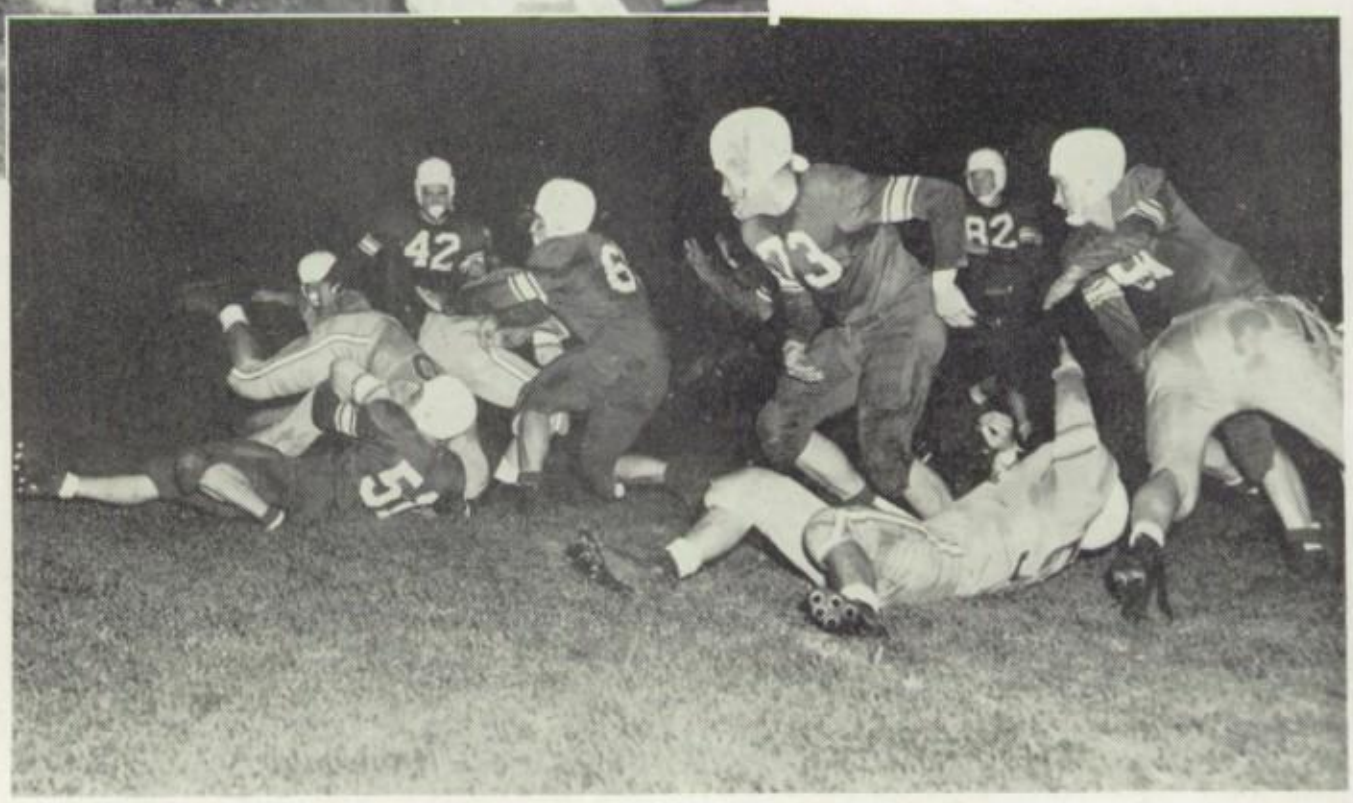
Lincoln High's defense tightens as Don Whitemon and two unidentified Links jolt Gene Dittenber of Northeast, and Larry Snyder (85), Bill Swanson (31), and Jack Muck (behind Snyder) back them up. Lincoln's defensive teamwork played a big part in their 34-12 win over the Rockets.



It looks as though Jack Muck (65) is telling an unidentified G.I. player to stay back as John Elliott (51) brings him down. Dave Hann (42), Steve Levy (73), Dean Sell (82), and Paul Ude (81) all got by the three Islanders and are ready to give able assistance to their teammates. Lincoln won the game 14-0.

TEAMS GAIN EXPERIENCE

They say Rome wasn't built in a day, and that holds true for Lincoln High's football teams, too! They aren't built in a day or a week, but it takes a season or more to train players well.

That is why, though the Links Reserve and Sophomore teams had quite a bad season score-wise, winning only one game between the two of them, they gained much in experience, learning fundamentals and developing a love for the game of football.

Looking at it all practically, this was a valuable season, and now there is next year to look forward to. Think of all the vacancies on the varsity left by graduating seniors!

ON THE BASKETBALL COURT

Cage fans at Lincoln High may speak with pride when conversation turns to the 1955-56 basketball season. Lacking the so-called prerequisites of good basketball players, height and experience, the Links more than made up for this deficiency by great determination and spirit.

Lincoln High started the season with a winning note, defeating Fremont, 38-34, but in the next two contests were stymied by Scottsbluff, 48-37, and Fairbury, 62-59. In their next encounter, the Links played a spirited game before bowing to a tall Omaha Central team, 46-39. Grand Island followed, tripping the cagers, 60-51.

The Red and Black hit the win column in their next two outings, defeating Southeast, 64-30, and Beatrice, 56-37. The Nebraska Coliseum was the stage for the great battle of the cross-town rivals. Northeast won the exciting game, 49-45.

An improved squad followed by roping the Cowboys of Boys Town, 50-48. Then the hoopsters polished off the next three contenders: Omaha Tech, 61-58, Sidney, 59-42, and North Platte, 62-55. Hastings finally stopped the win streak, winning in an overtime, 51-49. Omaha South proved too much as they easily disposed of the Links, 62-50. However, the season ended as it had started, with a win over McCook, 68-55.

In the district tournament, the Links gained revenge by tripping Grand Island, 57-53. Northeast again provided the opposition in the finals, the taller Rocket squad copping the contest, 53-45.

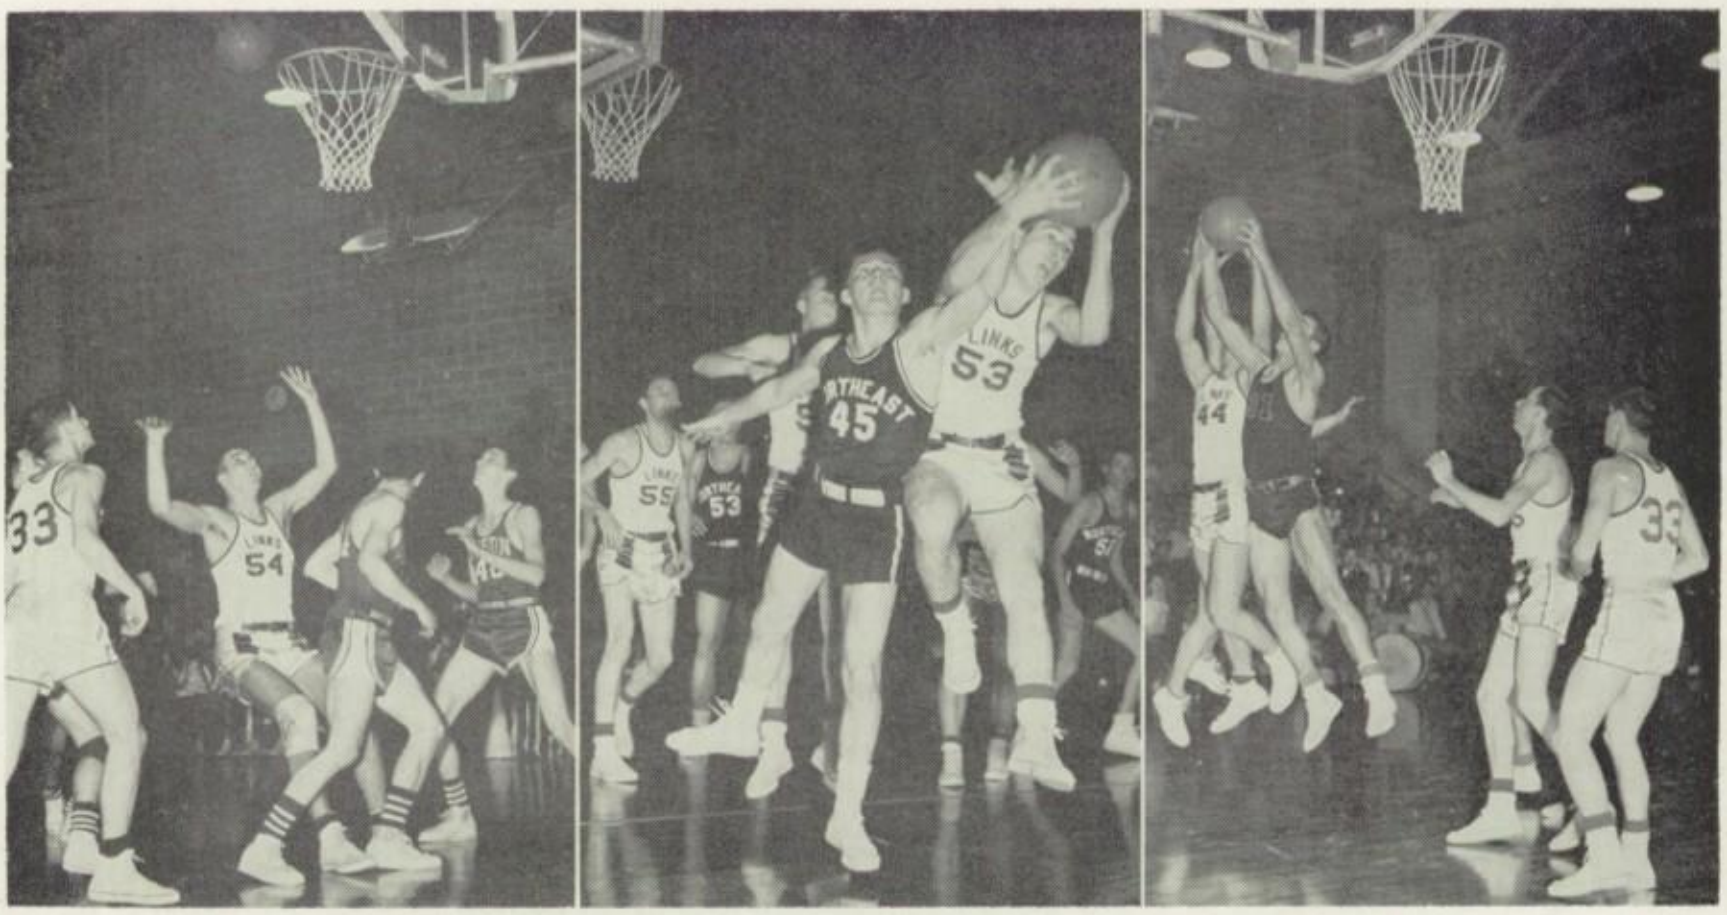
With the close of the tourney the cagers ended the season with a commendable 9-won, 8-lost record.

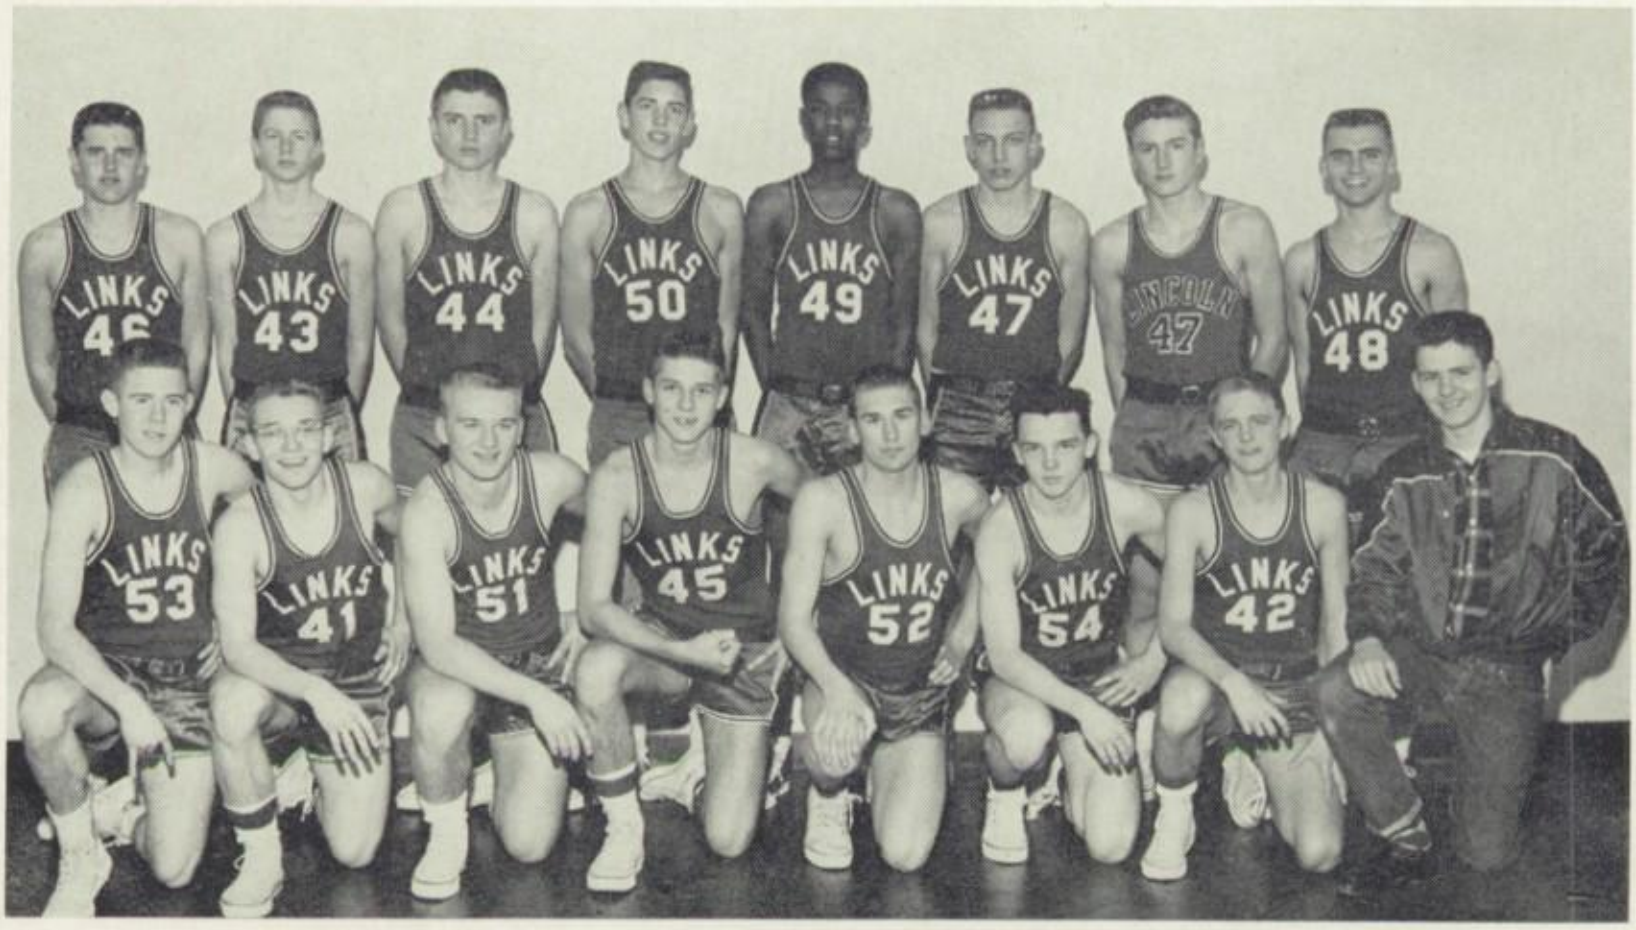
Under the careful tutorage of Coach Lyle Weyand, the inexperienced team greatly improved to become a fine squad that upheld the Lincoln High School tradition of good basketball teams.

Brian Etheridge of L.H.S. has the right object in mind, but gravity seems to be overcoming him. Kenny Filbert, L.H.S., and two McCook players watch the action.

Yogi Hergenrader comes down with a rebound but not without some determined opposition by Duane Steffen of Northeast. Action took place at the Coliseum.

Andy Matisons seems to have a surplus of arms and legs as he and a Beatrice player leap high for the ball.





RESERVE BASKETBALL: Row 1: Beler, Pinkerton, Meierhenry, McGill, Ude, White, Orwig, Cadwallader. Row 2: Kelley, Mulder, Walin, Thompson, Posey, Brettmann, West, Welch.

If the success of the 1956-57 Varsity Basketball Squad can be influenced in any way by the record of this year's reserve team, it ought to be a great season next year. At the end of the first four games, Coach Harold Scott's lads had compiled a two-won, two-lost record. However, from that point on, the Junior Links turned on the steam. In the remaining eleven games, the scoreboard margin was in their favor. The final season record for the junior cagers is thirteen wins, two losses.

Under Coach Darrell Grell, sophomore basketball aspirants gained experience and poise as they progressed through a twelve-game schedule during the 1955-56 cage season.

This year the under-classmen experienced a six-won, six-lost record. Considering none of the squad members had previously encountered high school competition, one can easily say that the sophomore basketball team entertained a successful season.

HARD SEASON FOR WRESTLERS

With the closing of the State Championship Tournament, February 18, Lincoln High's grapplers hung up their togs until next season. Under the watchful eye of Coach Harold Gilliland, the mat-men compiled an over-all record of five wins, seven losses, and one tie.

Mark Reimers was the most outstanding wrestler during the campaign. He compiled twenty straight victories and was the lone Link to win a state championship. Harold Casement, Cobe Venner, Gary Calkins, and Roland Wallick were also consistent point makers.

The Reserve Wrestling Team, coached by Ed Schwartzkopf, had a full schedule for the first year. Showing remarkable progress, the squad won seven games and lost only one.

FOURTH CROWN FOR GYMNASTS

The Links Gymnastics Squad, undefeated in all seven meets this year, held their stride as they won the fourth straight state championship in the optional division. The gymnasts scored 4,450 points to take the crown, while their nearest rival, Beatrice, had 4,213 points.

Coach Phil Sprague commented at the Winter Sports Assembly that the championship team was the result of fine team spirit and effort. Of course, there were outstanding performers like Jim Heffelfinger, who won first place in the state meet optional division, by winning firsts in the high bar and tumbling. Others placing were Jim Wertz, Duane Strough, Whitey Ulrich, Darrell Nelson, Dick Byers, Gary Parker, Dick Gilland, and Bob Martin.

In the novice division, Northeast, defending the crown, placed first with 4,541 points, Hastings second with 3,675 points, and the Links third with 3,663 points. Dick Allen placed first in tumbling, and Richard Headley and Bill Walker also placed.

RESERVE GYMNASTICS: Bottom Row: Richard Headley, Densberger, Allen, Wimp, Malone, Morgan, Garcia, Knauber, Reifschneider. Row 2: Gillen, Strand, Walker, Burke, Bond, Landingham, Talbert, Kiplinger.

Chuck Wilson gets ready to time a race between Larry Converse and Joe Gacusana. These three boys were Gold Medal winners in the State Swimming Meet last year and this year.

SWIMMERS—STATE CHAMPS AGAIN

The Lincoln High Swimming Team successfully defended their state meet crown by overcoming their nearest rival, Hastings, 81-45. Links Jose Gacusana and Larry Converse each set state records in the 50- and 100-yard free style events respectively. Chuck Wilson retained his 1955 diving crown, and the Links posted good times in winnning both the 200-yard free style and medley relays.

Aided by a wealth of returning talent, the Links also won the city title and went undefeated in regular season competition. Coach Harry Kuklin's swimmers downed Northeast, Southeast, Omaha Tech, Boys Town, Hastings, and the Omaha YMCA in dual and triangular meets.

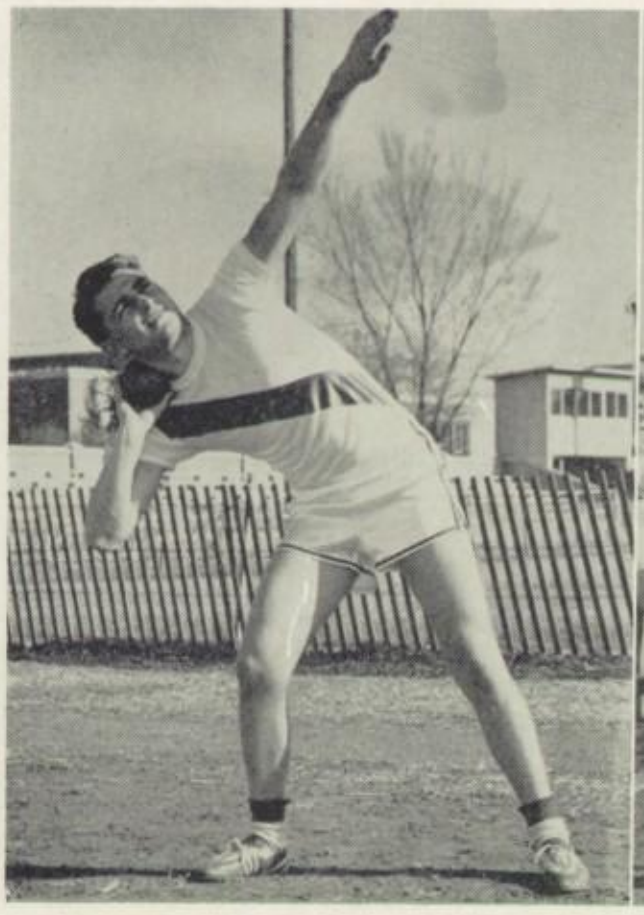
STRONG TRACK TEAM FOR L.H.S.

Although cold weather plagued early workouts, the 1956 Track Squad, bolstered by eleven returning lettermen, showed good strength and depth, especially in the distance and field events.

Opening the season with an interclass meet, the Links journeyed to the North Platte Invitational and Central Nebraska Meet at Hastings. Coach Harold Scott's cindermen met Beatrice and Boys Town in dual meets and found city competition at the Public Schools Meet.

District qualifications at Beatrice preceded the State Meet, held May 11 and 12, and the Links finished the season at the Grand Island Relays.

Straining for that Class A shot-put mark is senior, Gunars Talazs.



Sailing over the hurdle with the "greatest of ease" is senior cinderman, Dean Sell.

George Porter, a veteran distance runner, paces himself in working to trim seconds off his time.

BASEBALL TIME

With only four varsity veterans returning from last year's state champion squad, the Links Baseball Team began their regular season competition.

Buford Grosscup, making his varsity coaching debut in the prep baseball world, guided the team through a twelve-game schedule with Southeast, Creighton Prep, Northeast, Boys Town, Omaha Central, and Omaha Holy Name.

The Links journeyed two times. On the road they met Omaha South, Omaha Tech, Omaha Holy Name, Northeast, Southeast, and closed regular season play with a game at Boys Town.

TENNIS AND GOLF

Coach Roy Colson's netmen, with five returning lettermen and a host of new material, attempted to repeat their state championship, after meeting Boys Town, Fremont, North Platte, Valley, and the Lincoln schools in regular season play. Outstanding sophomore, Neil Unterseher, led the team throughout the season.

Harry Kuklin's Golf Squad met top competition in defending their State Sand and Grass Green Championships.

With two returning lettermen, they opened the season at North Platte and played a heavy schedule throughout the spring. The season was climaxed by the State Golf Tournament held May 11 and 12.

THROUGH THE SEASONS WITH G.A.A.

When one speaks of sports seasons, the tendency is to think only of boys sports, with all their publicity and fans. However, every one of the seasons of the year brings sports for girls, too.

In fact, name your favorite sport, and you are almost sure to find it included in the Girls Athletic Association's program in Lincoln High School.

Girls in G.A.A. have an added incentive to participate in sports, too, for they may receive one half-hour's credit for every sport in which they take part. By enjoying a number of sports, a girl can help fulfill her physical education requirement.

When school opens in the autumn, the leaves turn from green to many other lovely colors and fall from the trees. These beautiful, crisp days call G.A.A. members to go horseback riding and hiking. This is also an ideal time for the girls to play touch football or move out to the greens for a few more holes of golf. During the exciting school football games, several of the girls sell candy, popcorn, and apples to the fans in the stands.

Archery enthusiasts, Mary Riley, Marilyn Ziemann, Jackie Hoaglin, Cozette Close, Alene Winklepleck, Geraldine Jager, Carol Harder, Mary Stewart, Carolyn Washburn, Donna Blodgett, and Elizabeth Platt, aim for the target.

When the cold north wind blows down upon the prairies of Nebraska, it is time for G.A.A. to move inside for the winter. That is the time for the girls to enjoy some exhausting games of basketball, volley ball, or badminton. Swimming, table tennis, and bowling also afford much pleasure while the girls wait for spring to come.

After getting their rackets, Mary Stewart, Sally Peterson, Sylvija Liepnieks, Harriet Strickland, and Jo Ann Botts will play a few lively rounds of badminton.

Mary Stewart, Denne Hackstadt, Harriet Strickland, Margaret Greb, Elizabeth Platt, Judy Goodenkauf, Nancy Nuss, Dora Weeth, and Judy Simon anxiously await spring so they can go hiking again.

An interesting event this winter was a basketball tournament participated in by Northeast, Southeast, University High, and Lincoln High. Our girls from G.A.A. came out the winners.

Another highlight was the banquet at which the girls received their hard-earned emblems and letters. This year the Dean of Girls, Miss Dorcas Weatherby, and Ruby Stewart, last year's G.A.A. president and Cup Girl, spoke to the members present and helped give the awards.

When spring came and the moderate temperatures invited the girls to come outside and play, golf, tennis, archery, hiking, and a little softball were again very popular.

The climax of the season occurred on Color Day when the G.A.A. members saw Seen selling food at the football games were (standing) Janice Goeden, Mary Riley, Margaret Greb, Yvonne Hoaglin, and (kneeling) Mary Stewart, Harriet Strickland, and Sally Peterson.

Girls can enjoy touch football, too, as Denne Hackstadt, Mary Stewart, Harriet Strickland, and Mary Riley can tell you.

Relaxing with a swim after a hard day of school are Joyce Burns, Laurie Abernethy, Denne Hackstadt, and Harriet Strickland.

Ready to head for the golf course the minute warm weather arrives are Bev Lind, Susan Morgan, Sherry Turner, and Jeanne Carrier.

a senior member of their club receive the honor of being named Cup Girl. The girl is elected on the basis of her achievements in scholarship, citizenship, athletic ability, leadership, and personality. She embodies all the characteristics that a truly All-American girl should possess.

Summer comes, and school is out. But if you visit the G.A.A. members during vacation, you'll probably find them just as much "on the go" as ever, enjoying a healthy and active life because of their excellent physical training.

"Golly, it's so nice out. Let's go horseback riding!" say Sharon Splain, Harriet Strickland, and Jerrie Jager.

Shirley Schmidt and Mary Margaret Holtmeier find it difficult to decide just which perfume to buy. At the ALLEN DRUG STORE the girls find a large selection from which to choose.

Mr. Bloom, of the BLOOM TYPEWRITER COMPANY, helps Jim Eno and Ann Billmyer pick out their favorite typewriter. They are sure to find machines to suit their special taste.

Laurie Abernethy, Jerry Jacoby, and Susan Fraser look very pleased with the layouts for the 1956 LINKS which are shown to them by Mr. Drew DeVriendt. At the CAPITOL ENGRAVING COMPANY, the work is always excellent.

Deciding whether to buy that camera are Judy Fields and Margaret Wilson. If they decide to take it, they can always bring their film to CHEAPPER DRUG for expert photograph developing.

*"I always wondered how they did it," seems to be the exclamation from Ron Kastanek, Patsy Keiser, and Mel Kapeller as they watch the processes at the COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY.

Karen Kruce and Bill Lehman were looking for a really safe place for their money, and they found it at the COMMONWEALTH COMPANY. Their safe deposit boxes are really safe.

*About to follow in the footsteps of many wise people before them are Doug Keill, Sandi Darling, and Dick Hemmer. They know their savings will be safe in an account at the CONTINENTAL NATIONAL BANK.

"Mmmm." Look at that wonderful food. About to take their first bite of another of those delicious meals at COTNER TERRACE are Dorian Brown, Maggie Lionberger, Donna Pierce, and Connie Peterson.

*"And away we go," seems to be what Jim Purcell and Sharon Smith are wishing. They are sitting in a beaut'ful new Chevrolet from the DUTEAU CHEVROLET COMPANY.

It looks as if Linda Walt and Melissa Miller have decided to open savings accounts at FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION. They know their money is in a safe place, and it receives interest, too.

Judy Mueller and Jim Donovan agree that the FIRST NATIONAL BANK is just the place to open a bank account. It's really convenient.

Cooking on this new Roper gas range is a pleasure for Sue-Ann Schnabel and Willa Delehoy. The range is one of many from THE GAS COMPANY in the home economics room.

Diane Geier and Judy Christensen can hardly believe that in a few months these little chicks from HILL HATCHERY will be chicken dinners.

Two L.H.S. girls, Sharon Quinn and Wendy Allen, look over some exciting new spring fashions in HOVLAND-SWANSON'S new Junior Circle, third floor.

Showing Jean Sell and Johnnie Ritchey just how a radio station operates is Ralph Johnson. Each day KFOR brings us good music, news, and the other entertainment we all enjoy.

Looking very pleased with the friendly atmosphere and courteous service at KING'S DRIVE-IN are Bob Atkins, Jean Garlinghouse, Jeanne Carrier, and Dick Jacobs. They all agree that the food is wonderful, too.

Ruth Martin decides it might be a long wait before Gerry Wendelin and Janice Owens decide how much popcorn to buy. At the KORN POPPER they can get enough to satisfy their own tastes or enough for a party.

*"Maybe we'll see that country some day," say Jan Foltz and Neil Unterseher. This globe is only a sample of the wide array of supplies for office, school, and home that can be found at LATSCH BROTHERS INCORPORATED.

*What would we do without our ice cream cones at noon? Here we see Janene Johnson and Zeff Bernstien in the cafeteria buying some more of that delicious ice cream from the LINCOLN DAIRY & ICE CREAM COMPANY.

Knowing that she will be satisfied with the finished picture, Sandra Ellis enjoys posing for the photographer at the MACDONALD STUDIO.

Whether it be for an after-school snack or dinner, Bob Hays, Adele Keiser, and Janie Johnson know the MAYFAIR GRILL is the right place to go.

Dick Seymour and May Eaton know that one can always use more insurance. They know, also, that they can put their trust in the MIDWEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

MILLER & PAINE quality and good taste are reflected in the mirror, Teen Shop, Third Floor, by Miller's High School Fashion Consultants. Jane McLaughlin models . . . Marnie Gardner approves . . .

Two of this year's seniors, Tom Sloan and Roma Miller, model graduation robes from the MOHAWK CAP AND GOWN COMPANY

Brian Binning and Linda Teal are making sure that their money will be safe until that "rainy day." By putting their savings in accounts at the NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE, they can be sure.

Located near the university campus, THE NEBRASKA BOOK STORE is known to all students. Sidney Johnsen shows a display of some fine pens to Lael Taft, Ross McGlasson, and Judy Lewis.

Are you planning to buy a typewriter? If so, be sure to see the display at the NEBRASKA TYPEWRITER COMPANY. Shown here checking some of the machines are Roger Young, Danny Young, Sally Mosher, and Sue Healey.

At the NEHI BOTTLING COMPANY Betsy Beck and Larry Spadt help check bottles for purity. The bottles are held over a light which shows any impurities which might be present.

Whether you are planning for a large party or for a small gathering of friends, THE NUT HOUSE is the place to go for an important part of your refreshments. Looking over an assortment of delicious nuts are Connie Jones and George Mechling.

*Ready to take to the road are Adrian Wolfe and George Porter. It is no wonder they are proud of this shiny new Oldsmobile from the RANDOLPH OLDSMOBILE COMPANY.

At ROBERTS DAIRY, Sandra Lichtenberg and Mark Reimers are looking over some of the testing equipment used to make sure that the milk we buy is pure and sanitary.

We don't know if Donna Jackson and Judy Lutz are looking for a gift or for watches for themselves, but we do know that they will find their favorites at SARTOR'S JEWELRY STORE.

Which one to choose seems to be the problem of Judy Harding and Frank Mettam. There are so many beautiful colors and paints at SHERWIN-WILLIAMS that many people have the same problem.

The pleased people you see pictured here have a reason for their smiles. Melinda Morgan, Lee Liming, and Margaret Liebers have just tasted some delicious SKYLINE DAIRY products!

Renee Polsky, Kate Haggie, Jack Houchen, and Donna Cox seem to be pleased with the senior pictures taken by the TOWNSEND STUDIO. "Hope ours turn out as well," they say.

"Everything looks so good, I can't make up my mind," is the problem of Roger Hayford, Jane Schmidt, Jo Ann Gabarron, and Paul Young, seated in their favorite booth in the TEE PEE ROOM of the Cornhusker Hotel.

Looks as if Dave Hann, Marcia O'Neill, Bobbie Jo Kelly, and Ross Smith just dropped in for an after-school snack. They know that at TREAT DRIVE-IN, the food is delicious.

Looking at paint brushes are Gary Hill, Mary Weyand, and Mary Muck. They know that the place to go for quality paints, wall paper, or glass is VAN SICKLE PAINT & GLASS COMPANY.

Donna Keiser, Sandy Johnson, and Dave Liden are enjoying cokes at the WAGEY DRUG COMPANY, a pleasant place for after-school refreshments.

Shown munching on some delicious potato chips at the WEAVER POTATO CHIP COMPANY are Don Whitemon, Marvin Hudson, Mary Tucker, and William Walker.

"This new Dodge even has push-button driving," says Chuck Dorsey enthusiastically to Gary Gruenemeier as they look at one of the beautiful new cars at the WHITE MOTORS COMPANY.

Phyllis
Hello I sat next to you all semester in Voice class. Hasn't it been fun? Didn't learn much though. Good lucks always.
Marlene '57

Phyllis
It must be nice to be smart.
Any way once I made all 2's in the second grade)
The best of luck to a pal kid and a brain
Jim Pickett

Dear Phyllis,
It's been nice
being with you in German class. That class was sure something.
Cozelle Close

Dear Phyllis,
It's been fun
being in glee with you. Ours class has been sorta boring with all our rules, but I guess with congrats on making a chair. You're a stay that this summer

Dear Phyllis,
We've had a lot of fun in Voice class. We've been separated at times but did our best and enjoyed it, and have also enjoyed knowing you. Keep up the good work next year.
Linda Owens

Dear Phyllis,
Well, the first year at L.H.S. is almost over. I'm sure you'll always remember this cookie of a teacher, Miss Bonnell. Lots of luck to a sweet gal.
Sandi Darling

Dear Phyllis,
I sure enjoyed the good times we've had in Geometry together. Good luck in your future years at L. H. S.
Donna Woodrich
(Brown)

Dear Phyllis,
Here it is the end of my sophomore year already. Thank you for making me feel at home at L. H. S. I hope I get to know you better in the future.
Your Friend
Carol Schwindt

Phyllis
Well we finally made it, almost that is driving. We tried! It's sure been nice knowing you. I hope you have a fine succes in the following years to come.
Best Wishes always
Marlene

Phyllis,
It's been nice being in voice with you. I don't know you very well but maybe we'll get better acquainted with each other next year.
Luck,
Janet Tetell

Phyllis
Golly it's been fun this year in phys ed. It seems funny to write to someone with the same name. Here's wishing you loads of luck & lots of lollypops & a real sweet kid.
Good luck always
Phyllis Hartman

Dear Phyllis,
Its been real fun knowing you and all I can really say is loads + tons of luck to a swell kid.
Do's down this summer.
Betty Parks

God Luck always + may you always have the happiness you desire

Dear Phyllis,
This semester has been so much fun (at least in voice class). Your voice has improved so much. I hope that music is always a comfort for you. I wish you a fun-filled summer and the best of luck.

Love,
Laurie Blende

Dear Phyllis,
Well here goes
are old voice class.
Lots of Luck to a swell Girl.

Love
Glenda Terrence

It sure has been fun in German with you. Too bad you're not going on. Good luck in future years.
See ya 'round.

Frank Dillen

Phyllis,
It has been a pleasure in having you in voice class. I have fun and hope you do also. Keep smiling (and singing) and have a Happy Birthday.
See you next year.
This summer wish you lots of luck.

Phyllis—
It's been fun knowing you this year in class. Lots of luck & good health.

Dear Phil,
Its been nice
knowing you and swimming beside you. Too bad I couldnt have held your head under water very long. Ha Ha Lots of Luck in the future
